and when back before the earthland the waves flew think you to their ancients boundaries they fled? And your advance ran clean to nor farther than fairness' line?

Look: Of floods there were two. Avarice ours. Wrath yours.

Of the uplands no mass greater than afPunóny's-cum-Hungary's there lay. And from-neath afPunóny Peak Faerie rose and rose and the valleylands and lowlands and trenchlands to us fell. And now by the Flood of Wrath were your children to nurseries of our make and our wringing born. And so wrong choices were made of eld.

What-so-ever might the police generals argue, I know, as you will intuit: Such uplings so born to what —of our Faerie— remains are our children. As, into each clip of taken ground so-born, are our estranged your children. And to us, for our children, the whole responsibility belongs. So far as any —as my clade of waves; ours of littlenesses; even ours of mounds— are the Uplings Faerielanders.

Yet be convinced. By Bryth ufCastucy were these testimonies penned. 'Woman' by title, fae authored this furling of the Upling day-to-day so, with a good but soft-attentioned Waver friend, as to share the transpirings of faer fraught tenure in Mionchain. Born a Bróðlainny, the riots of 49.43 and faer graduation from Uælniytaí Lóðla-e preceded ufCastucy's relocation to Mionchain. Near six-and-dozen years fae fashioned faerself a Mionchainy and, moreover, stalwart of the Mionchainish Upling Community. UfCastucy took the Sacred Negative as faer pronoun —also: animal feminine— after that same 'she' and 'he' pattern you wear yourselves.

For people our Faerish gives only the 'fae' — yet for animals of semen and the Radiant Creative we give ton (he) and for animals of the ova and Sacred Negative þin (she). And tons and tones. And þis and þon.

When fae of waves of Bryth ufCastucy's old acquaintance —a one Âhern Amaldéu-e (myself); and this on April of the new Sgiesatthium— and faerself met, I made not heads nor heads of what sentence-like word-massings the Upling was siccing on me. Instead, dear Âhern to spare, Bryth sicced faer story on a feltsheet.

Lovelymost E, I give you Bryth's letter. Never but —mine aside— to compliment your affections, enclosed are the original writeup and, by my pen, another reseasoned to your anglophone appetite. (Only the dearer for its abhorrence.)

Faerieland

by Edith Lyre

2026

—in translation—

It's 2667 I.T., dab in the middle of the 618th Olympiad. 1695 AD.

The Faerieland Appellate Court is outlawing 'Changing,' the stealing and substitution of upland children.

Unto 2961 I.T., in order to vote or own land, the otherbound descendants of these 'Changed,' the aufGaolaí, must speak as follows:

Hereby, before the Darkness and the Watching Light, before the Un-Raped Mother and Faer Avatar in the Wealds, Faer Imperial Radiance [Artea e.g.], and before God, do I, [Legal Name], Grand-descendent of the Changed, singly and without trickery, forswear kinship with the changelings' hosts; their descendants in the Uplands; their families entire. I forswear what-and-ever debt of blood, title, and property is owed my clan and kin by Sí-e, no matter sê-faer clade, and all right to either seek, to either ask after, to nor either benefit by the closure thereof.

2983 to today marks the Sgiesaetthum's longest era without execution, formal or otherwise, of incarcerated aufGaolaí.

It is 2997.

In tiny silver letters spidering the back muscles and abdomen of Red's accuser was the following.

Build. Build again. Build a next thing. A next. Build. Let the building break you. Build like cracks form. Like teeth chip. Fill the cracks with the dust of your own ground-out tissue, dried-down skin. Build. Break your lips. Mouth. Tear your tongue lengthwise and learn to speak again. Break from the pit. From the muck and sod and grab your fangs for purchase. Grab on and say – don’t say – eke the noises you can eke. Make your mouth a receptacle for any sound that comes and scream it, whatever word, whatever voice. Now – good or shit – you are the word and the word is your charge. Now feet gather under. Lips take shape. You are broken. Broken. Broken and still breaking. The breaking is you. You are alive and the breaking is living. Break like crystals scour and scuff and grind out through centuries, centuries. Break like mountains die. Break like geysers melt. Shrink a single inch and break. Break. Topple and totter and, like a cascade of prions, build. Build. Proteinaceous infectious praxis.

In a clutch of yellow elastic tentacles, way up on stage, Night arched and bowed in reverse. Her spine and, written on it, the pull quote from Red’s famous article folded toward us. Four therapists ago, and this therapist was Aós sí, a therapist asked why I did not come forward about another assault – a different assault, one relevant at the time – and I said, “‘Believe women’ is a great principle.” The therapist nodded. “For the Uplands, it’s great. With them, the sort of division up there, it’s tidy.” The therapist nodded again. “Here it’s fae accusing fae. Or in aufGaolaí communities, often enough still, it’s women accusing women.” Whatever muscle supported the constant smile failed. A slack of negative space filled the jaw region. A minute passed. “Right” sounded faer conclusion. “Right.”

Night was Red’s accuser. But Red was Night’s accuser too. On Night’s bare skin were written the words of Red’s defence and counteraccusation. But for the dick, breasts, pubic triangle, and face, the quote encloded this, Night’s body, up in its nest seizing, jittering, wrenched back like a solar bridge to welcome the grey, gold, grey strobe of the factory’s ceiling as our new and worse, but necessary sun.

Out of love for Red I will not give the name “rape” to our first event. Night, I guess, never loved Red. Do I still? It’s tricky. The catch in her throat meant she could never speak facing an audience. Her “performance” of key lines from Quivering Haecceities – now the urtext of what we’ll call anti-transmisofgynlaích literature – and other of her finest works of short fiction was cutups pasted to Modh Gallery’s walls and small boxy speakers pasted underneath, repeating a scratch in her natural affect as the scratch of the audio.

The function seeped innocence, literally rang with it. And more, a new and violenter kind of innocence, pled per a weakness that was not softness nor even weaponisable. “Sure,” the installation that was Red’s voice said, “I’m guilty if that’s what turns you on.” Singular but multilocal, at one turn of the hall this speaking bore the face of an inner child or, back another alcove, a severally limbed monster (the style of narration suggested). But it all shouted “seems like you want me to be guilty?” with a high-rising terminal or question-tone not native in Red’s accent to declarative sentences.

I took her with me that night to a winter thing run by the then-oathed of my then-ex, a flutist and noise artist called Aura. (Now Ana a.k.a. Speedy Ana, Aura’s ex-oathed, and I are together again.) Red was beautiful in person, in a way new to her, like she’d only that day realised it. Every day, still, she’s like that: wakes up forgetting and, each day, discovers that power again. The effect, I think, would short out be it not for its nightly wilting and daily rebursting. We kissed but I left with the friends on whose patronage I even got in. About three fortnights of voice-talking carried us through until, comfortable with each other, she came from seeing a friend onto my throughway and admitted the conflict: “Wish we were on Disc” vs. “let me come to you”. (We referred to the mini-clade’s cod et al. channel as ‘Disc,’ never by name.) Offered travelling but I don’t have a station like she does, not portable, and couldn’t join at hers. So we met at the front lower gate of the rear- and front-enterable townhouse I live in, walked to hers, collected the portable station, walked back to mine. We re-entered my place by the back upper window door, kissed, and did later, much later on, get on Disc. Everything took longer than it should. There was an insistence simultaneous with reluctance I now speculate was premeditation in its throes. Eyes-eyes-locking eyes. Please for the love of God fuck me already until I didn’t want it. Then. Begging. Having begged. Fed up with begging. Then. You can look at a body and know it’s strong but, no, you can’t. Every muscle that counts for anything keeps itself a secret. “Stop, stop.” No like really stop. Then. It physically speaking is not possible to get up and you off me and I said what I said so why’s it still. Then. Locking eyes-eyes-eyes. Then she’s inside and you’re trying stop a couple extra times and “look at me.” You idiot you are raping me she must not know. If she knows then. What is why the fuck is happening. Eyes-eyes-eyes-eyes. After, you know, I came from it. So naturally they say it takes minimum sixish weeks to assign the obvious name to that species of series of events which out of love for Red I still don’t. There’s a neuropathy there, in me (not a prion disease; the prion motif was ever her thing), that makes it not possible. (But what if not a prion?) Night’s sequence of images aligns exactly with my firsthand visions of my own body in play, beneath Red’s, and is beyond reasonable doubt not a lie. That’s sayable. It’s sayable Night was not lying. But no it’s not sayable Red was lying, either. That Quivering Haecceities was all technics minus fact. It’s a thing I’ve found ways to think only in the negative.

Night’s fingertips arched, out of the nest, to grace and, stretching harder, grasp a dark red electrical device crowned by these raw nodes of current that, now, shook through and shook the woman’s body, thrashed the grace out of it. Miraculous contortions spread every length, bolted the dick upright, jolted the performance to a more-than-overdue conclusion. Seizure done, neck rolling, she tried her best to yell but scarcely audibly said, “We are the dead and dreaming is dying. But dream. Dream.” The gold, grey, gold sun blinkered out and in the dark she said, “Dream,” and the yellow tentacles fluttered open to a sound like applause and the factory’s darkness cheered her name. I looked for Night in the later a.m. I wanted to talk, or at least, look at her and think about talking. Found her alone on the rooftop like you’d expect and took the final third of her cigarette, smoked it watching the sun blur up between two sheets of railside cement way down, looked anywhere but at her. “Sorry,” I said.

“Awful,” Night said.

“Whose was awful? I loved you and, obviously, Laea’s set.”

But she looked at me. My boots. My rainjacket pockets bulging with changes of clothing, six prescription medicines, pens and a notepad. Covered by green. And never at my eyes. “What’s obvious, Britt?” And I remembered, a few hours back, I watched this woman electro-torture herself in a plastic cage over a hundred-head audience (despite the shrouding and shadows) and rethought, as when the terminal’s rivets coursed her, these same words the pattern of her alopecia matches mine before the tilt and she raped you one time. One. Non-penetrative. It did that much? and not everyone can hack it and unexpected that I’m strong and stronger versus others. Other women. Comparatively. Never planned to be.

“I’m sure we’re both high and awake,” I said. “But it’s the next morning and my capacity’s semi reduced.” Then I looked Night in the eye and said, “Can you rephrase that?”

All scuffed and silver, the sunrise flattened the bones and narrow arches of her face and summoned a revised comment to the lips and second cigarette to the fingers. “Were you scanning for me downstairs? Kept finding little empty bits of the crowd to stand in and walk your friends to, to search around, you seemed to. Two explanations re: the fuck your problem is and that’s you and that person are so fully the same I’m not safe here, that’s likely, or we’ve got something in common you want help with or think I can give. One of those kind of ‘you want something from me – you can’t get it – I literally don’t have it to give’ things. Which. Look. If it’s the second I’m really genuinely sorry but you saw how my time around it turned out. Red wasn’t hardly getting traction before you hove in. You turned it out the way it turned out. Which I’m not grateful, okay, or comfortable really about.”

“The word I’m not using is rape,” I said.

“Which I never used.”

“Am I mistaken yours wasn’t penetration?”

With the detached task-at-handness of the plausible victim, “If with you it was then.”

“Then. Three it was. Two it wasn’t. Then.”

Glancing up, past the jacket, at my sinews and neck and rods of snappable matter. “Giving...”

Tracing the gaze, fingernail across own collar, curving to chin and tapping, tapping the cheekbone, “Eyes.” She looked right at me. “You? No. But I might have it to give,” I said. Then we kissed. Shuddered. She vomited. Kissed again. She had her own catscale. I texted Speedy Ana I was leaving and Night sailed to hers. It was coming eight p.m. as I dressed and Night agreed my big bulky pockets full of changes of clothing and days of medicine was a good idea. (The sex was terrifying in a ‘we are helpless to do this again’ kind of way.)

Red says nothing’s harder to sell than reality. Internally I correct to ‘the Real’ and agree. To me the ‘reality’ is she raped me and Night and Night and I fixated on each other, roleplay-reenacting it, it was fun. To me the Real is the series of actions and events with an obvious name (‘obviousness’ being the exchange-mechanism bonding reality and the Real). “Offenders,” Red writes, “are masters of realness. An offender’s recall is side- and back-lit and shot day-for-night and its rim sparkles like DiCaprio’s wine-filled margarita glass. That looks right. That’s how that went down isn’t it. But when’s the last time your misery looked the way it should?” Night asked where Red ever learned. How she put it so exactly. We agreed she said it well. It’s just writing. She reads. People write whatever, I said. And Night cried my spit from her eyes and begged me not to stop.

I'm not an idiot. Second, third, subsequent effects occupy more of my attention than the immediate real. But it's necessary I've found to pretend that's not true because there's so much necessary harm at the extent of those lines and no one likes you if you say I knew it would hurt. I did it anyway. But everything hurts someone. I cannot for example will myself to put non-aluminium "recyclables" in the recycling box because the route map of the disposal trucks is publicly available and I know what pickups go to MelaMix Regional Landfill and which to Soléice Loch Recovery Centre and unlike most my gullet tastes my own helplessness in this regard and, like the chlorine and chloramine in my tap water, swallows it no complaint. But still I like not to lie. When I told Night all this I said also of course don't tell anybody, I don't want the fight she lost and plus Red's someone I care about. The broad strokes of what I told Speedy Ana were the same. But Night was fucking somebody – fucking me – who as far all knew was dear friends with Night's accusee/er. And Speedy Ana's partner was, that is, I was, fucking and/or dear friends with, across the battlements of this mutual accusation and public discourse, the pariah and figurehead of either faction. (Red as far as all knew was dear friends, too, with the woman fucking her accuser/ee (me.)) We had a predicament, a predicament that clockworked as I knew it would from my little "don't tell anyone" and that I, in a chemical sense, let happen. But that's America. Live in it or not, you unfurl it. The one who lets it is you. But, the mugger's the guy with the gun and the towers were brought down by two wide-body airliners and Ford held no obligation to reinforce the Pinto rear engine. (I was twelve: my parents' divorce was not my fault.)

Night met Speedy Ana at mine and we tried watching Fire Walk With Me but I kept talking over it and no one stopped me. When, faced with Bobby's jealousy, Laura says, Come on, just a little one, and he gives up, smiles, and says, I love you, babe, I grabbed Ana's arm and said, "Are you okay? There was a cuck. You didn't say 'me.'"

Nobody laughed but Night said, "Red's sat through all of Twin Peaks three times, she claims."

Then Speedy Ana paused. And in the shift of light, the dry, extracted heat of the common area singed. Retinas stung. Jaws clacked. Iron frames groaned behind paper-packed sheets of wall. A bad-coloured sunset stained through, soaked the woodboards, my neck squealed and creaked, and Speedy Ana's chin was undershine by the greyblue dying cornflower light of the phone she'd paused the movie with's lockscreen, contouring and exaggerating, making it massive. My focus, a little pink-tinged and fraught, filled with Ana's chin. "I meant to say," the chin said, "sometime to you but should probably say to both anyway I met Red two days ago and maybe should only tell you" when the boarding underfoot rattled like the fifth of six alarms and, buzzing, Speedy Ana lunged to steady the television while Night and I dressed quick as we could to answer the moot call of Faer Imperial Radiance, Blatance the Un-Raped. Nothing else mattered. Aos sí tread so light the rumble interrupted their lives not a whit. But the call sounded for all, every citizen, person, localisable region of sentience in Mionchain. Sí caught it in their hairs, goose tremors through the leyweb, and we in our feet. Hear; hear and be summoned. Heed the knell of the Un-Raped Mother. Faer Avatar's eye beckons you, little ray. Be its light. Thus we trod, thus paraded, under lilac canyons over emerald seas, to the Shimmerlands and the realm of festival there raised. Red hailed our arrival and the summerlight alternately crackled and oozed, oozed and crackled, rivuled-through and messy with leystick. "Good to see you," sang we four in unison; we bowed in like fashion. Then the fugue settled. Provided none of our party stepped a toe outside the Shimmerlands for the moot's duration, Blatance was done with us. Red's eyes flicked. Just the four. Faer All-Gleaning Eye, faer parasiticity, had paired us for the Sun Rite.

"Fuck," I said. "Fine."

Red shrugged. "It's the moot."

"No," Speedy Ana said. "Red? Carve with me?"

I tried my best, my honest-to-God best, to stitch together the words of an objection, but I failed. One imagines the same befell Night. She stared and stared and said nothing. A crust of iron-coloured leystick, dew-tipped, thawing, hung from her lower lid. She'd not blinked all fugue march.

"Yeah," Red said. "Fine." Then Ana took her arm and, in bond, the two vanished around a cluff of mintflowers.

To hear Ana's chin tell it, "Forget me meeting Red in Mionchain. All it was, was she asked to meet, but the asking was in person. Was at her place seeing Ess." But – the TV room now a warm and delightful, sepia-undertoned black, undisturbed by the passage of four months' mooting, Bobby Briggs's sage grin still plastered to the screen, Night gone to hers – the chin ebbed on, "We chose a similar creature. Very nearly got a result." Of the sixteen creatures, four of rivers, four of sky, four of land, and four of deep places, newly created this moot three – one of deep places, two of rivers – were aufGaolaí inventions. A new record, a landmark for aufGaolaí representation. It's a record unlikely to be surpassed. The election of creatures works as such: every Faerielander is paired with another of their own clade (bar five or so rounding-error exceptions out of eightish million, always their own); so Tann sí with Tann sí, Beag sí with Beag sí, Aos sí with Aos sí, aufGaolaí with aufGaolaí, etc. Then each departs the other's company and from the meatshrubs and featherfens and wooden forests carves a lifeform. Yet unsouled, the form is escorted to its partner, and the pair must attempt – if feasible – to breed their creations. If the creations' mating produces an offspring then that offspring may be entered to the election, tested and contested, until at last (out of eight million failed creatures) sixteen survive to be ensouled and reproduced and released to the far wealds of Faerieland. Lacking the other-attunements and side-sensitivities of the Sí, naturally the aufGaolaí – naturally we – underperform. Three was too many. It generated some social and policy backlash. But who cares. Ana's and Red's blood-carved creations mated and almost bred. Together, they very nearly got a result. "A sort of thing did emerge." Speedy Ana's voice danced, the TV darkened, chin lost in the pitch black of the room. "But it wasn't a creature in that way. Had no mouth nor locomotive means. We were half-watching-half-not-watching the carvings fuck and I asked if Red got why you and her stopped talking. She said, quote, to me, Red said: 'With you I never did anything like,' quote, 'what I did to Britt. Always I was careful,' she said. 'Always,' quote, 'I make a serious effort to not do anything like that,' and further, 'With Night I never did: I told her I get close sometimes but never did. Always never. Low, low, low odds Night believes Britt. Bet as she sees it Britt's got the same defame-to-suicide murder-instinct she does, but outside Britt, there's nobody I did this to.'"

Speedy Ana's special power is not only was she fast, she sped the customers up too. She's so quick she once got six people queuing, made them glom together as a single, new friend group ordering to a single table, and upsold them a bottle of vodka and one of champagne in 31 seconds. The de facto leader of the six she'd upsold to was Red. And that same night Red was at Ana's knockoff and back at hers came inside her at 100 seconds. Speedy Ana came from 92 to 135 seconds.

Such was Speedy Ana's power it accelerated even Red's near-immortally sluggish temporal blast zone. Red fell into and travelled through her, outmatched and fearing. They kept contact, Ana's responses to Red's replies instant and preternaturally thorough, and I suspect the mystery of Speedy Ana's and my attachment despite the astonishment of that pace fascinated Red. Though I was not uranium, I drank, ate, and got it in my eyes. What else might I tolerate or be immune to? But Red's magic worked on me, same as everybody. She needed and still needs something and I can't give it. But that was last year, Ana and Red.

"My carving was an eel with a lupine jaw. The idea was a dog with no legs but I wanted the dog to be on land, so a ley-eel. Its organs converted atmosphere to hydrogen and controlled its mid-air suspension, inflating, sustaining energy with solar and ley power. It mated with a prehensile tongue that, with another eelwolf, grabbed and enclosed the mate's head and sucked from ejaculation points around the neckscruff, drawing in when the tongue retracted. Red's carving was a jackalope with, in place of horns, an ordinary thick head of ginger human hair on its little rabbit head, and nothing else unusual except, unlike a jackalope, it didn't lay eggs because (Red says) she forgot they do that. So they were both mammals, but it was all my eelwolf's mouth closing on ginger locks, clamping the neck, and drinking dry, filling its eelwolf uterus with jackaloid blood. The rodent tried to mate, too, the way carvings will. Fretting and humping at nothing, the mud and wild mint under it. Red watched until the bunny kicked limp then – one funny thing was – she said, 'There's a profile of person I keep away and Britt's that profile.' Her fingers sort of laced into and out of each other and she went, 'You are too.'"

I said, "How does being Red's type make you feel?"

“Then so. So.” In a sweep of traffic light through the curtain’s cracks, Speedy Ana’s chin softened and re-blued and the cold curve of her forehead pressed my shoulder, eyes seeking. We smiled at each other and she said, “The obvious way. But so then...

“I asked if we should go now, the mating failed in any case. ‘Well, informed consent,’ Red said. She started laughing and so did I. Took my hand. We fucked in the field and got tiny bits of teal and sapphire grassweeds all over us and neither heard the eelwolf choking on the jackaloid. It died watching us. Her heart wasn’t in it, is my thing. I topped. Maybe it really only is you. Maybe that makes it worse.”

I carved a small bird like any other. But its beak was more perfectly diamond and its feathers more perfectly the blue of a midday sky. Night’s was a deep earth insect with a pentagonal frame. She was surprised at my bird. “You love bugs,” she said.

“I don’t think I’ve once spoken the word ‘bug’ in your presence,” I said.

“I’ve mixed people. I’ve mixed two people. No.”

My bird dug for Night’s bug and yanked, licked its pentagonal frame into its diamond beak, crushed it back to symmetry.

At one leg of the long, fugueless trudge from the Shimmerlands after the moot’s closing festival, I checked my devices and saw Night blocked me on everything. In the dark of our home, then, I told Speedy Ana and she said, “Maybe it’s what Red mentioned,” then briefed me on the carving and Red’s plea, Red’s counter-accusation, Red’s shortcomings. Night was not reachable. And I was not about to chase Night’s friends, read them in on this matter, chairing interviews everywhere. I didn’t care enough. So the best explanation for Night's suddenness with all that is what Red said a week later. But Red's stories have that quality.

(Night and Red never stopped talking. (That's meant to be a secret.) So Night gave Red an account of her and my short fling that shared some narrative kinship with accusations made about Red and, as evidence to that effect, showed Red screenshots of a chat where I roleplayed as Red. Then Red, the story goes, showed Night pics I'd sent to Speedy Ana and Speedy Ana sent to Red, sort of describing the terms of the roleplay and proving Night's screenshots were not, in fact, evidence. So Red claims. I asked to see the images and she said, "Let's get back together," so I walked home thinking very seriously about the fingernail-sized Beag sí scarification tattooist I saw but never spoke to in the days I still went to dungeons and where on my body I would ask faer to scar the passage in Quivering Haecceities about artificial productions of realness.)

"You're the type who'll bluff and bluff pretty hard and look me in the eyes and say you're calling it," Red said. "But not the type who'll play the hand. Not when it comes to it. I could say I'm bluffing and still you won't. I'm not criticising really. I admire and sort of adore you for it. And it frees up a kind of limitless energy, you get to make any threat, any size so long as every threat, every size is empty. I'm not expressing myself well. I respect it. I respect you."

There was nothing in the back garden of that overstaffed and underclienteled café-bar except a miniature gumtree wrapped in a strange amount of plastic and the ash-stink of a faraway housefire. And eyes. Red's. Taking in mine.

Palms turned, she said, "I am. I am sorry for – in my words – raping you. I am especially sorry considering – you know – Quivering Haecceities. I know you were sort of already a fan before we met. I won't say I can't imagine because I can and that's why. Why I'm sorry. But – like – we've each got things we need people to not talk about. Which is why we can be friendly. Can. Are being friendly."

Her palms unturned and turned back and floated into each other, leaves stuck aloft. “I do get it,” I said. “There are things I get.”

“In terms of me. In terms of options.”

We talked an hour and another, and had I left a minute later, that night’s funeral might have started without me. No idea Red knew this ex. The train was late until Red came running. Then it popped into sight. Materialised, just for her. “Ignore it,” she said, out of breath. “You’ll be late. I’ll drive. We’re going to the same place, I remembered.”

“Are we?”

“The same funeral.”

I waved the train on. I mean why not. Pointing, nodding, “You lead.”

A solitary, unchained car-remote entered Red’s hand. “It’s my ex. The funeral.”

“She never told me,” that much was true. The stripes on Red’s mini were faded and the backseat was full of shopping bags. “She’s mine as well,” I said.

[year:] 49th(60).58th(1)

—literal gloss—

Our 44.27th-year per-i.t., which smackbang within the-middle† 10.18th Olympiad-†of is we give. One-six and nine-five A.D.

Faerieland Appellate-court-of toward-the outlawing of Changing that †Children the-†stealing-of and the-†substitution-of [is] is.

Topic: of-to land own NAND to vote Sub-topic: Years through-to 2961 ([4.9.21]) per-i.t. So toward-the farther-aforementioned-such so the otherbound descendants (who from these-much-farther-aforementioned abductees are) as follows must speak:

Note: this-when and subsequent-from note I and note all. Before/under the-darkness and the-watching light and mother of unraped-being whose avatar that in the weallds [is] I also before/under am and Faer Radiant Holysself. e.g. Artea and God so-as-said I† who of the Changed-Ones descended am singly-so and so without-trickery hosts of the-changelings' kinship without go-forth. And †same-again of their-descendants-in-the-uplands. And also †same-again of their family entire. Note: I so-as-said 'what[mysterious-that]-and-ever-and-totally debt of blood and/or title and/or property my clan and kinfolk that fae-from owed are as such/so the re:clade-of faerself and/or theirsself in-of and as itself no-concern gives - without go-forth. And the/our right-in-full for-to seek and/or ask and/or from the closure thereof benefit to me it/we shall-give-not.

The most length-of period† the 120yearum-of without an execution — ifly formal or otherwise — of Incar'aufGaolaí'cerated †that-of from 49.43 to-today marks.
49.57 we give.

Toward the Spidering in silver tiny letters of the back muscles and the abdomen of Red-of accuser'ya the following was:

And - and note-you-build. Again -you-build. Topic: a next what— that -you -build. And a next.

Note you build. And — the building "as-said" you yourself break let. Note • As cracks form so build: As teeth chip: With the dust of ground-down-tissue ↑ dried-up-skin ↓ -yours the-cracks fill. Note. Build. Your lips you break. Mouth. Your tongue lengthwise you tear: Note: As-said: And again to-speak you learn. From the pit you break and -'rom the-muckinesses and the-sod and fangs for purchase you grab. Grab-on and say and — concerning saying-not — eke: • What noises you that you eke can-of do-of. Your 'receptacle that for any-sound† that comes is'-being to-with your mouth you give and †such †scream: What[mysterious that]ever word: -'ever voice. Note!: Of-in Now whether good or shit the word you are o your charge the word is. And note!: • Under feet nowily gather. Our lips we shape give. Broken we break. Yourself the-breaking is. Alive you are and being-alive the breaking is. Note!: "As-said" as through centuries crystals scour and scuff and grind-up so you break. As mountains die so— so break. As geysers melt you break. Note!: A single inch you shrink and break. — As said. — Break. Note-you-topple —aiee!— and also -totter and also — ↑ — and also as a cascade of prions so note[all-listening]-build. Note[all-listening]-build. You build. Infectious praxis and proteinaceous-praxis—'ya.

Reversely way-up on Stage within a clutch of tentacles elastic and yellow Night arched and bowed. Toward us her spine and — regarding what that on it written is — the pull quote that famous article of-Red's from is folded.

The-then-when-that fourily therapists-of ago was and this therapist† sídhe-of was a †one-who-was-the-same-one <why I toward the Coming-Forward a_bout an assault★ — per-the-topic and the-that-when-of a one that different and relevant was — as★ other-of so wasn't> asked and — and — and I said:

"Notice: 'As-said' our toward-the-believing-of women we give' a great principle is."

The therapist† nodded.

"For Upland great it is. Tidy, how the sort of division upward-of there with them is, it is."

Again the †same-entity nodded.

"Here fey toward-the accusing fey-of it gives. Or - topic: aufGaolaí communities - women toward the accusing women-of it not-insufficiently-had-and-still-gives."

Whatever muscle that smile constantly-gave-into-perpetuity failed. The-jaw-region a slacking of negative space filled. A minute passed. "Exact" faer conclusion sounded. "Exact." The accuser Red-of Night was. On bare skin Night-of the words of defence Ruth-of and Counter-accusation written were. †That but-for the dick and breasts and pubic triangle and face the quote enclothed body† Night-of — and †this as a solar bridge so up-inside-of the-nest itself-of the ...grey... !gold! ...grey... strobe of the ceiling factory-of so our new and worse but necessary sun to welcome — o †that-one — toward-the seizure and toward-the jittering and backward toward-the wrenching.

Every length miraculous contortions spread and upright the dick bolted and to-an overdebted-enough conclusion the performance jolted. Done-seizured and neck rolling her best she toward Yelling gave but scarcely audibly said:

“The dead we are and dying dreaming is. But note:[any-hearing-this-do-]dream. Note:[any-hearing-this-do-]dream.”

Offward the Δ gold grey gold V sun blinkered and in the-dark “Dreams” she said and open to-a sound that like applause was yellowy the-tentacles fluttered and her name the factory-ish darkness cheered.

I in the later post-night for her searched. I to-talk or leastly at her and about-talking think-of to-look wanted. I the rooftop alone on like expect one would her found and of her cigarette the final third took and while between two of sheets of railside cement way-down the sun up-of Blurring watched smoked and anywhere but at her looked. I “Sorry” said.

“Awful” Night said.

“Query: whom with awful it was was? I you and obviously set Laea-of loved.”

But at me she looked. My boots. My pockets raincoat-of with changes of clothing to-of bulging and six of prescription medicines and pens and a notepad. With green covered. And at eyen-mine never. “Britt: query: what obvi-is-ous is?” And I remembered: How when a few hours ago herself within a cage plastic-of over ((the-shroud and shadows despite) a onehundreda’head’ndtwenty audience this woman electro-tortured I watched and I as when her the rivets terminal-of so coursed these same words rethought

And when/then I Night in/at the eyen looked and said:

“Query: Note rephrase: That you rephrase.”

All scuffed and silver of her face the bones and narrow arches the-sunrise flattened and a revised comment to-the lips and second cigarette to-the fingers summoned.

“Query: for me r.r.were downstairs toward-the searching you were? Little and empty the crowd bits-of to-at stand your friends to-go/walk to-of around seek you to-seemed. Up past the-jacket to-glance: my sinews and neck and snappable matter rods-of at. “Giving...”

The gaze to-the tracing-of: across own collarbone fingernail and to chin and the cheekbone curving and tapping and tapping: “Eyen.” She right at me looked. “Q:you’n’t? A:no. But I-indeed ours/it might to give given be,” I said. When(/then) ourself-we kissed. Shuddered. She vomited. Again[iteratively] kissed. She our/the catscale-hers we/it gave. I to-my Speedy Ana I leaving was texted and to hers Night sailed. It while I dressed Eight [Ghás] to-come was and that my big bulky pockets by-means-of clothes changes-of and medicine days-of filled within good-idea-being was Night agreed. (Of a “helpless this-to iterate we are”ish way type-of terrifying the sex was.)

Harder than reality to-sell nothing[of-the-eternal-feminine] Red says is. Internally I “the Real” correct-to and agree. The reality to-myself that<me and Night she raped and I on oneself-other with Night fixated and into roleplay-reenacting got and fun it gave> is. The Real to myself the series of actions and of events an obvious (the-mechanism-exchange-of reality and the Real to-the bonding-of species-being-of ‘obviousness’ given is) name to-been-given is. “Masters of realness” Red writes:

“...offenders are. A recall× offender-of of side-and of back and of night-day-to-serve lit and shot is and the-rim ×that<same-again-of is> akin-to the of DiCaprio glass margarita-of that-wine-filled-is sparkles. Right that seems. How downwardly the ruin rose that is or is-indeed. But query: of when the nearest time ago the-way<itself-so He gave[the way it should]> your r.r. misery seemed was?”

Where Red ever learned Night asked. How it so-exactly she out-set. We it she well said agreed. As just our writing so we it give. She reads. I whatever people can and write said. And my spit her eyen Night from cried and of me to not stop begged.

I’m not an idiot. Second and third and subsequent effects more than the immediately real my attention occupy. But I it<toward truth-being not-is to-pretend> necessary been-found because our ve’much’ry necessary harm at the-extent of those lines we give and if one that<it hurt would knew says> then one nobody likes. Anyway I it did. But someone everything hurts. I e.g. myself non-aluminium “recyclables” at-to box recycling-of to-put will-myself not can because publicly available the ro’map’ute of the disposal trucks and what pickups MelaMix Landfill the-Region-of Landfill and which Soleice Lake Recovery Centre go-to is and unlike of most helplessness-mine in-this-regard my gullet tastes and akin with the chlorine and chloramine <that in my tapwater [lit. iron-water] is> complaintless swallows.

But I a Lie to make even still-not-ly like. When I all of this Night to-told also I of the course nobody tell said and I the fight she lost not want and plus someone<I about-care> Red is. Of what I Speedy Ana told the strokes<that broad were> the same were. But somebody× Night to-fucking-of (me-of to-fucking) ×who/same-again-who<dear friends Night accusee/er-of-with as far as all knew was> was. And our/the partner that Speedy Ana-to-with we/it gave (id est I) across-over the battlements of this mutual accusation and public discourse toward-with the pariah and the figurehead of either faction at-to-fuck and/or dear friends with was. (Dear friends to-with the woman who<her accuser/ee (me) at-to-fuck was> Red as far as all knew was.) A predicament to-with-us you/it been-gave: a predicament as<I little my “anyone not tell” from would knew> clockworked and as I in a sense chemical-of so to-happen let. Ax ios Umerycu bhie. Duílin í lebendaen or not. Who<í dúegcornffæn erlaen> yourself is. But the<whom-with the gun is> guy the mugger is and with two of airliners wide-body-of the towers down brought were and no obligation the rear-engine Pinto-of to-reinforce Ford bore. (I twelve was: fault-mine my divorce parents-of not was.) At mine Night Speedy Ana met and while to-the watching-of Sê-teo-duîm Ai’lúgr’sót but I over it my talking kept and me no-one stopped. When-indeed with jealousy from Bobby Laura confronted is and so Come just little a one says and hands-his he open [he gives up] and smiles and I you<babe-mine> love says I arm Ana-of grabbed and:

“Query: O-are-kay you are? Our a-one cuckold-being-of we gave. No ‘me’ you said.”

Nobody laughed but Night said, “Through all of Twin Peaks three times Red been-sat, she claims.”

Then Speedy Ana paused. And in the shift of light, of the common area the dry, extracted heat singed. Retinas stung. Jaws clacked. Iron frames behind sheets of wall with paper packed groaned.

A bad-coloured sunset through stained and the woodboards soaked and my neck squealed and creaked, and undershone by the greyblue cornflower dyingways light of the lockscreen the phone the movie with paused-of the chin of Speedy Ana contoured and exaggerated and massive made. The Ana-chin my focus that little pink-tinged and fraught was filled. "I sometime to-you" the chin said...

"...to say meant but probably of-to o[both] anyway say should that I two of days ago Red met and maybe only you tell should..."

...when like the fifth of six alarms underfoot the boarding rattled and in buzz while<I and Night quick as we the call moot-of of Faer Radiance Emperor/ress-being-of Blatance of Un-Raped-being to answer could dressed>"while" declefts the television to steady Speedy Ana lunged. No else mattered. So soft the Aos sí tread the rumble their lives a-whit not interrupted. All-but-for in Mionchain all-and-every citizen and person and region of sapience localisable the call sounded. In their hairs (tremors of goose-being through the leyweb[l'web'ey]) it Sí caught and in our feet we. Note:you and all:hear; hear and summoned are. Note: "as-we-say" we and all the knell of the Unraped Mother[sh'parent'e] heed. You little ray Faer Eyen Avatar-of [literally: the dreamer of faer eyen, but "avatar" in Danæam = Eyen-dreamer so the "dreamer of one's eyen" is a deconstructed "avatar"; tar of one's ava] beckons.

Note:to-you the-light-being it gives. Thus we trod and thus paraded: and lilac canyons under emerald seas over: and the-Shimmerlands and the realm of festival thereto raised. Our arrival Red hailed and with leystick rivuled-through and messy the summerlight alternately crackled and oozed and oozed and crackled. In uni_son we four-of...

"Goodly the-sight of you-all given [is]"

...sang; in like fashion we bowed. Then the fugue settled.

None of our group a toe outside the-Shimmerlands for duration the moot-of ifly still-steps-will then ourselves-with Blatance through/finished was. Eyen Red-e flicked. Just the four. Faer All-Gleaning Eye[A'gle'eye'an'II] and faer parasiticity for the Rite of the-sun ourselves-us still-paired/coupled.

"Fuck[lit. child-murder]" I said. "Fine [swell]."

Red shrugged. "The moot gives."

"No" Speedy Ana said. "Verbless-query:red? Query: me-r.r.carve-with carve?"

I my most o my to-god-genuine most the words of an objection together to stitch tried but I failed. That<the same Night befell> one imagines. She stared and stared and nothing said. From her lower lid a crust of iron-coloured dew-tipped toward-thaw leystick hung. All of fuguemarch she still-blinked'nt.

"Yeah" Red said. "Fine."

Then her arm Ana took and in bond around a cluff of mintflowers the two vanished.

Of it the Anachin to tell hear: "Notice •

"Of me toward the meeting in Mionchainn of Red you forget. All it was: she to meet asked it was but in person the asking was: I at place-hers Ess to-see was."

Ax (the T'room'V nowily of a warm and delightful and sepially undertonal black by the passage of mooting of four of months undisturbed and still onto the screen Briggs Bobby-of sage grin-of plastered and to her-own Night still-been-departed) on the chin ebbed •

"A similar creature we chose. A result very nearly got."

Of the sixteen of creatures —four of rivers and four of sky and four of land and four of deep places— newly of this moot three —one of deeps and two of rivers— of aufGaolaíách inventions created were. A new record and a landmark for aufGaolaí representation-of. Up-trill. A record that unlikely to surpassed been-will [is]. As such the election of creatures works:

With-another of faer-own clade (always faer-own minus five or so of exceptions errors-of rounding-of less eightish of million) every Faerielander paired is; so/and Wave people-with Wave people'ya and Small people-with small people-'ya and Mound people-with Mound people'ya and Uplings-with Uplings'ya.

Then faerself the company other-of each departs and the meatshrubs and featherfens and wooden forests a lifeform from carves. While yet unensouled to-its partner the form escorted is and –if feasible– their creations the pair to breed attempt must. If the mating creations-of an offspring produces then that offspring to-the election entered and tested and contested may be until (less eight of million creatures of failure) sixteen of fauna at-last survive • o to ensouled and reproduced be and to-the far wealds of Faerieland released. Lacking of the other receptivities-of and side sensitivities-of of the Sí naturally the aufGaolaí – naturally we – underperform. Too-many three was. Some social and policy backlash it generated. But who cares —you-know?

The blood-carved-ish creations of Ana and Red mated and almost bred. Together very nearly they a result got. “A sort of thing still emerged.” The-voice of Speedy Ana danced and the TV darkened and in the pitchblack of the room the chin itself lost. “But a creature in that way it wasn’t. No mouth nor locomotive means ours we gave. We to-at-of the half-not-watching-half-watching of the carvings as they fucked were and I if Red why>you and her to-talk stopped> knew asked.

"To me —quote— she said id est Red said:

"I with-you never anything like...'

"—quote—

"...what I Britt did-to repeated. I heedful was always,' she said. 'Always...'

"—quote—

"...I a serious effort anything like that not to-do make' and further • 'I Night-with it never-gave: I her I close sometimes get told but it to-do never-gave. Always never. Small small small odds Britt Night believes. Notice I bet as she it sees Britt the same to-suicide-defame murder-instinct as she from suffers so but outside of Britt I nobody this to-did it gives.'"

The-special-power of Speedy Ana not only fast she was is but the-customers too she up-sped. So quick she once six of people in-queuing got and as a-single new friend group ordering to-a-single table them glom together made and a bottle† of vodka and †one of champagne within 31 of seconds them upsold.

As over it turns the de facto leader of the six she to-upsold Red was. Red at knockoffs Ana-of was and back at hers inside her at 100 of seconds finished. From 92 to 135 of seconds Speedy Ana finished. As-so the power of Speedy Ana was-so even that near-immortally sluggish temporal zone blast-of of Red it accelerated.

Outmatched and of-at fear into and through her Red travelled. Contact they kept • The replies Ana-of to the replies Red-of instant and preternaturally thorough were and I the mystery <despite the astonishment of that pace "despite" declefts> of the-attachment of myself and of Speedy Ana Red fascinated suspect.

For-all I uranium not was I it drank and ate and in my eyen got. Query: what else I r.r.tolerate may immune-to be or tolerate?

But on me same as everybody the magic of Red worked. Something she needed and still needs and I it give can't. But last year that was: Ana and Red.

“An eel with a lupine jaw my carving was. A dog with no legs the idea was but I the dog to-on land be wanted: so a ley-eel. Atmosphere to hydrogen its organs converted and its mid-air suspension inflation toward the sustainment of energy solar and ley power-of controlled. With a prehensile tongue that another of eelwolf-to/with the ma'head'te grabbed and enclosed and <from points of ejaculation ar—the-neckscruff—ound toward in-drawing <when the tongue retracted> sucked> it mated.

“A jackalope with in place of horns an ordinary thick headtop of ginger human hair on its little rabbit head the carving Red-of was and no else unusual except unlike a jackalope eggs it lay didn't because (Red says) she that they that do forgot. So each mammals they were but all my mouth eelwolf-of on ginger locks to-of-close and to-of-clamp the neck and dry to-of-drink and with blood jackaloid-of its eelwolf-uterus to-fill it was.

“How carvings do the rodent also to-mate tried. Frettings and humpings nothing at: the mud and wild mint under. Until the bunny limp kicked Red watched then/when —one of funny thing was— she said...

“A profile of person I away keep it gives and that profile Britt is.”

“Semi each other into and out-of fingers-hers laced and she went:

““You also are.””

I “Query: how the type of Red r.r.makes to-be you feel makes?” said.

"Then/when so. So."

In a sweep of light traffic-of through the cra'curtain'cks the chin of Speedy Ana softened and re-blued and of her forehead the cold curve my shoulder pressed and eyes toward seeking were. At each other we smiled and she said:

“A.:obvious way. But so then...

“I if of now we go should asked given in any-case the mating failed. ‘Well— informed consent’ Red said.

“She laughing started and I so did. My hand took. In the field we fucked and tiny bits of teal and sapphire grassweeds all over us got and neither on the jackaloid the eelwolf choke heard. While us it watched it died. Her heart as our what that we give in it wasn’t. I topped. Maybe only you it really is. Maybe worse it makes.”

I a small bird like any other carved. But more perfectly diamond its beak was and more perfectly the blue of a midday sky its feathers. By Night[’s hand] a deep earth insect with a pentagonal frame was [made]. At my bird she surprised was.

“Bugs you love” she said.

“I in your presence the word ‘bug’ even one speaking-of made thinkn’t” I said.

“I people still-mixed. I two of people still-mixed. No.”

For bug Night-of my bird dug and yanked and into its diamond beak its pentagonal frame licked and back to symmetry crushed.

After the closing festival-of of the moot at one stretch of the long fugueless trudge the Shimmerlands from I my devices checked and me on everything Night blocked saw.

I in the dark of our home so-then Speedy Ana told and she said “Maybe what<Red mentioned> it is” then/when on the carving and plea and counteraccusation and shortcomings Red-from me briefed. Night reachable not was.

And I friends Night-of aboutn't to-chase was and/or on this matter them -read in- with all that interviews everywhere chairing-of. I not-enough-cared. So for suddenness Night-of with all that the most good-of explanation is what a week later Red said. But to stories Red-of that quality gives.

(Never Night and Red their talking stopped. (That a secret to-be-meant is.) So an account of short fling-mine and Night-of that<some narrative kinship with accusations about Red shared> Red-to/with Night gave and to that effect as evidence screenshots of a chat at-which I as Red roleplayed showed. When/then as<the story goes> Night-to/with Red pics toward the terms of-the roleplay describing-of and factily not evidence so screenshots Night-of proving-of that<I Speedy Ana-to/with sent and Red-to/with Speedy Ana sent> showed. So Red claims.

(I the images to-see asked and she said:

"Why together not back get —'you know..."

...so toward thinking about the fingernail-sized Beag sí scarification-tattooist that<I in the days I to dungeons yet-still-went saw but never to-spoke> and I on my body where the passage from Quivering Haecceities about artificial productions of realness faer to scar ask would I homeward walked.)

Our nothing in the ba'garden'ck of this barcafé that<overstaffed and underclienteled was> except-a<miniature gumtree that<in a strange amount of plastic wrapped was> and of a-faraway housefire I ash-said:

"I am. I you<to-still (my words through) raped> sorry am. I especially sorry with consideration of (me you why friendly we act can is. Can. Friend-being we bear."

Her palms unturned and back-turned and into each-other floated and aloft leaves stuck.

"I it get do" I said. "Things I get it gives."

"In terms of me. In-terms-of options."

An hour and another we talked and if<I a minute later departed> the funeral that night-of without me might still-started-been.

No idea this ex Red knew.

Late the train until<Red running came> was. Then/when into sight it popped. Just for her materialised.

"Notice: it you ignore" she said and of breath empty was. "You late be will. Note: I drive. We to the singular place going are: I remembered."

"Echo: are?"

“The-funeral-same-yes.”

I the train on-waved. Why not mean. With pointing and nodding:

“Note:you-lead.”

To hand Red-of a solitary unchained remote car-of entered.

“My ex we give. Our funeral.”

“Me telling she eternally-never-gave,” true that amount was.

On mini Red-of the stripes faded were and of shopping-bags the backseat full was.

"She to-myself ex-being gives-in-turn" I said.

Not Non-Rules

1 · Orthography & script

- Letters in use: á â ä ë ê é ĭ î í ü ú û ł æ œ ô ö ó ý ÿ; rare þ; V as a letter-mark (the down-trill).
- Capitalisation: Nouns capitalised, everything else bare. A Noun that becomes a not-noun loses its capital (Mêdhe → mêdhië). Nested capitals drop word-internally; a fused Noun-complex capitalises at its left edge only (afŁamis keeps its mid-word capital as an af-/fel- exception).
- The seam writes ĭ: ĭ meeting ĭ across a morph boundary wears the diaeresis (niĭl < ni + il; nirĭë < niri + -ië).
- Quotation marks: >- < top layer, »- « nested lower layer. English " " appear only inside the imperative's self-quote ("S'aige'in"). faer may tag the close of a quote (>Łix-< fær Scłieclu-Scłieclu sœineā).
- • (spaced either side) = combined exclamation-mark and colon; opens/closes imperatives, optatives, topic-markers.
- Δ = up-trill, V = down-trill. Offices: vocative (up-energy / down-energy; obligatoriness unruléd); affect (Δ amused/sharp, V unkind/hushed); spatial ↑/↓ in running text; prose emphasis (V ...hushed... beat, Δ !struck! beat); Δ also stands for the closing • in the first-person topic-smoosh. One vocable, several offices; typed twin of Δ is A. Trills run parallel to the segments until sentence-end or the next • — the one exception to prosody-blindness; humans cannot join them. af-/fel- are the trills' dictionary prefixes (up/down).

- Hyphen = compound junction, toll-free. Apostrophe = tmesis seam, toll due (Ro'math-oo'seoir'b'il). Dash-hung clitic for whole propositions (or'raif'il—'t); seam-dress scales with guest size (presumed law).
- Imperative punctuation and the vocative trills are written; the fæ majority express them vocally.

2 · Mutations

- Lenition follows scér, e "of", niíl, and more (Cain→Chain, Bailc→Bailch, Gusci→Ghusci). Eclipsis follows scén. Same split as the two question particles.
- Pronouns and possessives are mutation-immune (e mao Fía, never *e mhao). Names after e stand unlenited (immunity, or J outside the alphabet — watch).
- Bare numerals take no mutation.
- thúil "no longer" is a citation form, not a lenition of *túil.
- Whether aoa lenites what it negates: unattested — open.

3 · Articles, determiners, definiteness

- niíl = a/an (ni "fewer-than" + il "multiple"); lus = the.
- One article slot: lus / niíl / possessives compete for it (*sís lus; mhís e Wíc, never *lus mhís e Wíc). In existentials the possessive bleaches to an article (Mis Scale mith gæn "there is a car").
- Definiteness is obligatory: proper noun, lus, or enclitic 'ya. Indefiniteness optional.
- Definite/demonstrative paradigm: Atruens'ya "the incident" (sg, enclitic) · ios Atruens "that" · sís Atruens "this" · sícías Atruensê "these" · iocías Atruensê "those" · Atruensê'ya "the incidents". Demonstratives front the noun and pluralise with cías; the neutral definite rides after the noun, plurality marked on the noun. iocías/sícías are compositional (ios/sís + cías).
- Proper names are doorless (no article). Whether indefinites make poor topics: unruléd.
- What du can swallow: the article fence alone.

4 · Pronouns & reflexives

- All bare, never capitalised. ten I · mæ you · fæ 3rd (she/he/they — the universal-fæ system) · í it · mith we · miths us · teo me · tes my · mao your · fær his/her (object form of fæ after iy) · mis our · cías their/them · ír its (an animate/inanimate split beside fær — light fork).
- Ceremonial force-pronouns outside the fæ-system: Ton/Tonu "he — the creation force" (oblique Tonu-e), þin/þis "she — the noncreation force" (oblique þis-e); declension conditioning unruléd.
- sê, the reflexive: logophoric (in reports, self bends back to the sayer). Naked sê = 1st person "myself"; never 3rd; in infinitives, generic "the-self". Compounds: sê-fær "færself" (fær last — an adjective, taking the in-lieu-of-tmesis position), sê-cías, miths-sê "ourselves", í-sê. Each antecedent pairs with its own compound; no exotic binding conditions. Placement free; also serves as the emphatic. Reflexive placement free.

- cías-sê: dual duty — alone (sg) / each-other (pl); the alone-construction rides mé, and 'ya on will reassure. Reciprocity is pronoun-side, never verb-forms; the reciprocal estate is claimed by the plural sê-forms.
- Clause-mates are disjoint. Otherwise anaphora is direction-free — any direction, domain, distance; no positional sanctuaries at seams; the liberty distributes across o untouched. No special anaphor exists — the pronoun-gender design guards something sneaky, undisclosed by design; the anaphor-ban protects it. One wall anaphora may not pierce: the coordinate island.
- Picture-Nouns: nothing leaks, no cage — the e-construction available, unrequired.
- Text-deixis: a six-cell compass, near/far × back/along/plain; the along-column is cataphoric (sísaoya "nearer along", iosaoya "farther along — the yet-to-be-said", sísiya "nearer, direction-unspecified", etc.).
- Nonspecific office: mith, í, and a conditioned mæ-substitute. someone = uain't-aoa; some = uaothë.
- 'ya stress / 'thte de-emphasis never change the core pronoun (no obviation). Pronoun emphasis is segmental, both directions. Pronoun-clefts free. Inclusory constructions: yes (mith ssai).
- Zero subjects licensed where be agrees — a licence, never a law. A dropped copula reads first person.
- Referentiality and genericness are unmarked.

5 · The verb "to be"

- One verb, a full grid; two splits govern it: presence of the cleft ios, and number (-s).
- With ios — and inside y-marked subordinates — the form is obligatorily atá / atáea (pl. atás / atáes). The y-law: "the y in yScéan summons the atá family" — thé (y-less) takes bhie; ythénŷ, yiosnŷ, yScéan take atá. Behind it: existence earns subjecthood; nonexistence is denied it.
- Elsewhere: bhie(s) present · eibh(s) past · más(as) 1st person · iëao(s) future (iëao = ië- + ao, the morph prefixal, matching its tmetic face 'Ië'...). is: an attested be-face beside bhies (Æœá-e Fía fæ is — gentle fork). aobh: plausibly an optative be-form (held loosely).
- bhies has a triple life: plural; polite plural; courtesy-singular ("they are a friend") — the last a mystery.
- Order canon: base OSV; first person SOV ("SO not OS"); colloquial 1st person makes the suis-je — be fronts and fuses: Más-ten (vS-O-V), adjectives hanging free. Ten ærmuch más "I am tired" · Más-ten ærmuch "I'm tired". Más-ten is tonally casual, 1sg only. The overt copula is obligatory by convention but routinely dropped in tmetic fragment-sentences (Stá'fæ'tach "the fæ is stupid").
- Complement order: 1st person Subject + Complement + be; all others Complement + Subject + be (Oob lus Math lus Seoir bhie "under the mat the key is").
- Degree-complements: any adjective converts to a degree-word — forcing complement-hood — via Or...il "not X enough" and Ro...il "too X" (Or'lain'il / Ro'lain'il; litotes: or'raif'il—'t "not inadequately hungry" = extremely).

- Adverbial complements: statives take bare fronted PPs; only action sentences mark direction, with dús (toward-the) and dúil (toward-a). Formal progressive: Ten dús Fith-Fith más "I toward-the eating am"; semicolloquial Fith-fith: ten fith — first person only (elsewhere it ambiguates).
- The participle sits before be in 1st person, after be in non-1st (person-conditioned or free — open).
- Bare subject-complement: the make/crown pattern Mith fær Væx farnea — one dress in both voices.

6 · The existential engine (gæn)

- Nothing merely is: existence is continuous donation, es gibt taken literally. Frame: í [NP] gæn — "it gives NP" = there is NP; the dummy donor í serves when none volunteers.
- Possessive existentials: mis "our" / mao "your" as possessives-as-articles, giver mith (Mis Seoir oob mis Math mith gæn).
- The ours-deferral: when the possessum is genuinely ours in a we-give sentence, one first-person mark defers to second person — the giver flips to mæ, or the article to mao. What is truly ours must be handed to us by you; the community cannot self-certify possession. (In the bleached-article existential, mis certifies nothing, so the deferral is not in play.)
- Predication by existence: chained gæn-clauses assert identity — ... gæn aich sin ... gæn "is also a".
- The gift test: an NP is what gæn can give — the engine doubles as the constituency-detector (tmesis words travel as Nouns). Second jurisdiction: resumability as the topic-licence — a topic is what í may say.
- Tenure: plain gæn undefined and common; gænyin temporally bound tenure; gilæn eternal regiving (g'[w]il'æn — wil "all" tmesized into gæn, the hard w paid, welded solid). mith gæn = inalienable; í gæn = alienated. gæn wears tense — the six-form chant; -ea past and ië- future productive across the family (gænea, iëgæn't).
- The naming-split: the unnamed is possessed from the front; the named is tagged from behind (Kettlina-mine); ours and theirs by the same pattern.
- Negative existential: æeá Frælithi'ya í gænyin — nonexistence denied subjecthood, the dummy í giving.
- Dates exist by donation: Raíwíl-heatth mith gæn "it is 2997".
- States by frame: gæn mé X Craimh "X is hungry" (es-gibt × tá-ocras-orm).
- gæn vs mé-e (donation-ownership vs accompaniment-having): division presumed, unruléd; tes-mé possession-as-accompaniment enriches the mé side.

7 · Negation, polarity & comparison

- Answer words: aobha "no" (ao "not" + bha "is"), bháya "yes" (bha + 'ya), Syá "maybe" ('thte + 'ya ground together by fast speech). The verb-echo + clitic answer is commoner.
- Polarity clitics: 'ya positive · 't negative post-consonant (Fith't, thurn't) · 'thte negative post-vowel (Nhœme'thte, scé'thte) · 'ma on-the-contrary (Gæn'ma "oh but I am"). The weld mÿa < 'ma + 'ya.

- Leading tags: scé'ya (expecting yes), scé'thte (expecting no). Under ellipsis a clitic can outlive its host (Ær 'thte? — scé elides, 'thte hangs).
- The clitics dock on the focused constituent of any class (duíra'ya, Eg'ya / Eg't). Bare aoa = constituent negation; 't = the polar stamp; film't alone is grammatical but "disagreeably subtle".
- Double negative = attenuation, not cancellation (aoa dúixeis film't ≈ "semi-rightward-turn-ness"); double negatives are disembodiers. Neg-raising is the default; low docking disambiguates, aoa-fronting wilfully re-ambiguates.
- Negation fusion runs the whole tense system: atáea'thte "wasn't" · gilæn't "never-gave" (doubled gilæn't gilæn't "never, never") · iegæn't "will-not-give". The general negative strategy, not a present-tense quirk.
- The pro-verb át "did" answers for any verb, first-person order-flip intact: Ten ios át "I did" · Ios mæ át "you did".
- æœá = the object-no, direct on the NP; æœá-e "without / of-no" (Ten æœá-e Fía más). æœá-e leads its NP (determiner-blood); mé-e trails (preposition-blood). The from/without twins: dræao and æœá-e.
- Negative-quantity scale (on partitive e + 'ya): niuain · aoa uain · æouain · ssíns.
- Comparison is built from the polarity clitics: X'ya = -er degree (slee'ya "faster" — reads as the 'ya-degree; the true comparative suffix is -mÿa, sleemÿa; gentle fork), 'ya'ma even-more. The standard takes iy "than": Holdhmÿa iy tens "taller than me". iy never omits — coherence keeps its anchor. Attributively the head Noun tmesizes into its standard, -iy hanging by the tmeter: Níil holdhmÿa Fæ'hín-iy'ær "a man taller than fær". The repeated adjective must vanish, its copula may stay: iy lus Sídia ____ (atá). iy + NP is a bare phrase — no silent structure; clausehood exists exactly where y-marking shows it. Comparative clauses shed everything but the standard-NP.
- -mÿa generalises the comparative to adverbs; contrariety wears -ma. Superlatives: mÿel "more-than-any" / niyel "fewer-than-any" (with variant definite articles; partitive e placements). Equative: the sin... sy correlative — sin mordach sy fær "as big as her" (in practice sy fær sin mordach fæ bhie); reaches noun-function ("as a club") and adverbs. "very" = the duíra'ya boost (borderline, awaiting word).
- The emphasis kit is asymmetric: yes doubles (bháya'ya, fith'ya bha); no chains its lone morpheme (fith't o 't o 't). Combinations free; the chain grades open-endedly, whimsy over scarcity.
- Conjunct-glow: X'ya o Y "X indeed, and Y" — conjunct-emphasis is a polarity act by the docking law; one conjunct may glow alone; many-glows = two 'ya stamps. Negative glows dress as 'tya / 'thteya, avoiding added negators (split-pole X'ya o Y'tya; bare 't stays plain negation). An 'ma-stamp ('maya): unattested.

8 · The interrogative system

- A clefting, particle-driven, prosody-blind, movement-only system. All questions are obligatorily tagged — no tonal questionhood exists.

- Particles: scér (past, leniting) / scén (non-past, eclipsing), placed at a notably irregular point. Suspended protases ask honestly: scér tmeses into ann (O scé'ann mao Myth dús bhie Son-Son e bhie? "and if your nose is a-bleeding?").
- The retro-repeater (r.r.): the sentence's last verb repeated in advance at a notably nonregular point — the audible signifier of questionhood beyond the particle. Emphasis/urgency $\propto$ irregularity of placement; at the extreme the copy erupts mid-word (to- are -ward). R.r.s are questions-only; declaratively their mirror is plain repetition (§12). The r.r. alone is position-free.
- The frozen cleft ios: resonance-governed, never question-bound, not obligatory in questions; obligatory wherever thas stands (ios attends thas, never the reverse — mystery). Dropped in echoes, where even thas surrenders it: the missing cleft is the tell. Demonstrative-ios $\neq$ cleft-ios (rides plain bhie, no y-marking).
- Multiple-wh fronting: nothing sits in situ; every questioned element fronts, stacked. The th-word's home is clause-initial after the particle; a subject ahead of the wh is an error — except a first-person subject, which flips the order.
- thurn is inherently interrogative — no non-question form. here = síis thurn; there = ios thurn (existence stated with gæn: Í ios thurn níil Nímhog gæn). them "how" (frame them...yail "how many"); thénu whom-oblique (after prepositions; whose = thénu mé); ythemnÿ "how" in reported speech.
- Echo-questions (in-situ and intonation both banned) are solved in the morphology: echo prefix gla- (reduced glés- for one-word echoes) + vowel-harmonising suffix -as: Glascér ... laías? / Glésthas? "WHAT?". Informal echo: the verb reduplicates and burrows inside the wh-word (Sclaí-laí-laí-laí-tha-laí-s mæ?). Statement-echo uses gla-...-as; question-echo re-poses the clause + tag (...scén scé'ya) with deixis shifted (mæ→ten). No ios in echoes — the echo absorbs it: cleft = ordinary question, no cleft = echo.
- Answers, yes–no: echoed verb + clitic (Fith'ya · Fith't / Nhoeme'thte · Gæn'ma) or dedicated bháya / aobha / Syá; the pro-verb át for any verb. Echo-answers drift toward 'ya (Bháya. Ghusci'ya. — the Danæam "you heard me").
- Wh-answers are the question's negative space: the focus fronts to exactly the th-word's slot; the cleft goes implicit; no particle, no r.r. In subclauses the implicit cleft holds the ghost y-...nÿ, so every overt th-containing clause takes bare y-. Fragments may fuse into one word by tmesis (C'achér'ed "second drawer").
- Long-distance questions mark the path only where it matters: y-...nÿ marks the th-element in the first subordinate clause that itself contains one (yiosnÿ, yésnÿ); bare y- marks th-elements in all secondary clauses (yüs, yés). Binary — no third grade; agreement tracks th-content, not the abstract path. A relative clause with no internal th-element stays plain ios. "Th-element" = membership in the interrogative paradigm (thas...thés); surface th- alone does not qualify (thúil is not one); síis thurn does put one inside its clause.
- Rootness: • and scér/scén are root-clause-makers; y-...nÿ / y- fire in true subordinates only.

9 · The imperative

- Danæam does not command; it announces compliance and directs the listener's attention to their own obedience, already underway. Frame: Air • "S'aige'in" dúirá film. — [Notice • "so-said" leftward turn] = "Turn left." Air "notice!" opens; • presents; "S'aige'in" (sin wrapped around s-shorn saige) is the self-quotation. No particle, no r.r., no ios: its own sentence-type.
- Fragments drop the so-said nest and reduce the particle (Air → Ai', as gla- → glés-). Persons nest into the command, shedding their onset (Ai'æ'lith); Air's r survives as liaison only before i- and e-initial nested pronouns. Bare Ai'[verb] is implicitly 2pl unless context narrows it. fæ cannot nest in imperatives (official answer: Syá).
- Two axes of degree: urgency scales by compression (bare Ai'lith! maximal); gravity/anger by ceremonious expansion — syntactically proper embeddings of air plus expecting-yes questionoids (Sís mæ-film air, scén scé'ya? • "S'aige'in" dúirá film.). The more formally complete, the more trouble you are in. The prohibitive does not invert the scaling.
- Polarity clitics attach for force: 'ya do-emphasis; 't / 'thte prohibition (Ai'lith't! "don't run" — the announcement simply announces non-compliance). 1pl prohibitive: Air'ith'rubh't "we touchn't"; audibility variant dash-set Air'ith'rubh —'thte—!; periphrastic Sís mith air —'thte— • "S'aige'in" í aoa rubh. 1pl hortative: Ai'ith'rubh'ya "let's touch!" — 't forbids, 'ya invites.
- The optative: O • frames it (superseding Ai); Mee converts optative → imperative, carrying the implicit existential [í] [subject] Mee [gæn] — curses are gifts (O • Mee aoa mhís e Wíc linchs). Mee is monitory; its geas-tiers Me'æ'e (2sg), Me'en'e (1sg). The elliptical optative also underlies the topic-shifter ("May what follows concern X"); its reach beyond that frame unruléd.
- No debitive exists — the imperative serves.

10 · The tmesis engine

- One mechanism, five coats: things that go inside other things pay a toll and leave a seam. The two laws: the apostrophe marks every seam; the nested word sheds its onset consonant.
- The toll's phonology: hard onsets pay (drop): b c d g j k p q t w x. Soft onsets ride free. In clusters, hard members drop and soft survive (Through → 'rugh; Wíc → 'íc; Malach keeps its m). Pronouns pay regardless of softness (mæ → 'æ, mith → 'ith).
- Seam-merge: identical sibilants across a seam merge (S'aige'in < Sin + saige). Sin = "so/as", so S'aige'in is "as-said" — the verbs-into-Sin domain is the as-X-ed adverbial factory. Sin's split-shapes: S'—'in · S'—'n · si'—'n · s'aige'n — the 'in → 'n elision freer than suspected, perhaps free variation.
- The five coats: the r.r. burrows into wh-words (informal echo); the r.r. into ordinary words (extreme emphasis); Nouns nest inside adjectives (C'achér'ed = ced split around (t)achér; endless adjective-nesting allowed, adverbs never nest); verbs nest inside Sin; pronouns nest inside the imperative (Ai'æ'lith — to command someone, Danæam ingests them).

- Host-minimality & the tmeter: a guest whose host is too small to open hyphen-dangles instead (mé-saige — its saige a plain r.r.; -iy inside Fæ'hín-iy'ær). Working hypothesis: the host must leave a viable shell on both sides of the seam (mé's right shell would be a bare é).
- Welds (fusion proper): true fusion writes solid — Syá, ythús, iostá — no seam-mark, toll still paid (ythús < yth + (l)us). Law: "they fuse where the energetic resonance serves (it's vibe based)" — optional always, obligatory never. The weld is also the complex-preposition formation (wythil · duílín · drúræao · dúiri).
- Stacking & order: proximity decided by relevance first, English-style rank as tie-breaker; tmesized, the stack goes concentric — leftmost = outermost shell (re'bi'o'car'ld'g'd). Tmeting is optional — always.
- The wrapper carries the grammar, the core carries the meaning; a core may itself be reduplicated (Dú'greibach-greibach-e's). Guests may be pure cry (Ai'æ'titlop -luai- "note-you-topple, aiee!"). Monster tmeses attested: ro'gænstílgæn'il · Dé'ahor'cruí'sáillaí'ch'ía'er · aufGao'samsca'laíê · Gi'regéar'gýa · stil'ten'át "sti'I'll-do". Names and whole clade-names ingest (Oob'aufGaolaí'sígænea "incar'aufGaolaí'cerated"; Or'ghínhe-îæth'ai ingests a year-name); derivation can ingest its own twin (Próitínä'raxis-e'íach).
- Whole clefts are emphasised by death-and-resummoning as deep tmesis.

11 · Coordination & ellipsis

- Coordinators: o "and" (between every pair, or before the last) · ær "or" · ax "but; but-especially" (n-1 pattern; extended to selective emphasis: Mith ax ten'ya) · æxó (NAND-flavoured) · aoæx "either-or-neither" (disjunction with a refusal built in; patterns as æxó) · aoær "neither-nor". Coordination is category-blind and function-parallel — form irrelevant. O the list-opener ("all" modifier) opens a coordination as a menu — options offered, both exist, soft both-at-once; only with o / ær / ax, never æxó/aoæx; distinct from the optative O, which wears the •.
- Reach-back coordination: no verb-category is barred from coordinating; the only restriction is the limits of the preceding phrase. Each o-conjunct bonds back to whatever layer of the opener coheres — and may return to an earlier layer after a deeper one. Hearers attach clauses back as their judgment serves.
- Omission under identity: the second conjunct may drop a repeated be.
- Phrase-level ellipsis (inside NP / AdjP / AdvP alike): gap or uain, as the resonance serves — the bare gap rides the hearer's reach; uain is the stand-in body.
- Fragments are unrestricted — only permissions, no restrictions; orphaned clitics permitted (Ær 'thte); a solitary owned fragment is allowed and nongrammatical (Holdhmÿa.), but iy never stands over a ghost (*Holdhmÿa iy.).

12 · Emphasis

- The deafness law: loudness carries no meaning; no meaning rides melody anywhere (no tone exists; intonation subtypes imply nothing, ever). Segments alone carry meaning.
- No emphasis by movement — order-freedom is answerhood's alone. Emphasis rides repetitions and clitics.
- The triarchy: cleft for constituents · the kit (polarity clitics) for polarity · plain repetition for verbs — the r.r.'s declarative mirror (Fær mæ lathn! Lathn!).
- Declarative emphasis-clefting is granted; sentence-opening clefters stand bare. Pseudo-clefting in two grades: Sin uain ythénŷ... and the bare-opening Thé... (bare = no y...nŷ).
- The decleft doctrine: the atá-family is the sentence's cleft-memory; iostá is the manual de-clefter; emphasis docks free within frames.
- NP-internal emphasis: the resumptive-í frame — NP first, í reflecting, the general be closing; no ios, so never atá (ending on atá is proscribed); the whole NP pied-pipes, the part never travels alone. The resumptive í is not the reflexive í.
- Dislocation is refused as an emphasis device — no hanging themes left or right. The two-tier system: movement proper strands nothing (the semicolloquial Fith-fith: ten fith excepted, 1st person only); dislocation resumes with í (things) / fæ (persons); no particles.
- Emphatic-pronoun cells: standing machinery (segmental, both directions).

13 · Topic

- Three marker devices: S'air'n · O • o e X • · Efui • — plus the for-its-part replica s'efui-e'in (placed after its topic). Sin X is the plainest road, running bare. Boundary-marks are conditioned per device (colon · closing • · bare). The shifter's logic: an elliptical optative, "May what follows concern X".
- Markers stack, unranked; a marker may take the for-its-part replica as reprise. The thinnest marker suffices, and the resumptive elides beneath it (whether an overt í/fæ may also stand: open).
- No topic by bare movement — never without a marker. The first-person smoosh: O X Δ, the trill standing for the closing • (O Scóhn Δ ten mac).
- Position is whatever: marked topics ride parenthetically anywhere an auxiliary fits. Initial = the first seam after the particles. Other positions live in the seams between clauses, never phrase-internally. The final seat stays closed — the be owns the door; afterthoughts only as new pointing clauses on the CEr 'thte model; the tail is a topic-reminder riding the post-clausal seam.
- Contrastive topics: routed through the tmesis-fold road — swallow, then stamp the tail ('ya).
- The marker split: bare for glow (emphasis), marked for topic.
- Topic-licence = resumability, the gift test's second jurisdiction: a topic is what í may say. Adjectives and adverbials cannot topicalise as themselves; verbs enter by the gerund door.
- The topic-path law: free at any depth; first subordinate plain, second-and-deeper bare y- (the nŷ never worn). The y-system's second office. (Two y-offices crossing in one sentence: precedence unruléd.)

- The coordinate island holds: no travel, no in-situ dress, every marker moonlighting.
- The topic stack: free multiplicity; every secondary topic an object; predicates pair first-to-first by verb-last discipline; a referent may return; no one-topic law. No topic agreement, ever.

14 · NP syntax & the function-country

- Genitive/of: e serves both bearings — Hín e Gree "a man of humour" fronts the quality; lus Gree e lus Hín "the humour of the man" reverses it; order alone disambiguates. e's of-office spans quality, quantity, reference, partitive (general to quantifiers) — not material, not cause.
- Quality also derives directly: -ach (Stát→Státach; Grëach Hín) — a parallel road. Negative quality inherits the circumstance apparatus: aoa atá, atá'thte, or thé + ææá-e + bhie — the quality denied subjecthood.
- Quantity: one frame, Q e N — Níil Scál e thíthíl Tonnaê "a boat of a thousand tons"; Níil Lund e Shar "a pound of sugar"; the numeral absorbs one layer of of.
- Material: by, not e — Tïc by Úrsapê "a house of bricks"; means and matter merge. Compare Tïc e Úrsapfarmaí (abstract/industry association) and Tïc dúe Úrsap-Farm-farm (purposive: a house for the trade).
- Manner: three co-valid roads — by-instrumental (by Elin ghuethnea "with verve served"); tmesis (El'huethnea'in "ve'served'rve"); -ië adverb (elinië ghuethnea). Negative: honestly open.
- Cause: a family of four metaphors, and by never enters — origin e (Ærmuchaí e Síulnê "exhaustion of wounds"); gift-given gæn (fær Síulnê fær Ærmuchaí gænea); gift-received dræao + ghiæan (fær Ærmuchaí fær Síulnê dræao ghiæanea); destination duín + tug (Yth fær Síulnê fær duín Ærmuchaí tugea eibh "brought to exhaustion by"). yth may front a cause over a plain passive (Yth ír Ralxú lus Both rüstea eibh — whether a true passive-agent device or adverbial fronting is open).
- Function ("used as"): the sin...sy equative stretched to nouns — Ten sy Cthug sin lus Acusthia lyncea "I as Club so the stick used"; the sy-phrase fronts to the object slot.
- Reference ("about"): e — Ten fær e Atruens'ya saíea "I him of the incident told".
- Essive ("as a soldier"): the possessed mé — tes-mé Maghr "my-with soldier-being"; accompaniment made possessive, a state carried. Also attested mao-mé. Functive frame: duín X tes-mé Yr (duín Berolth tes-mé Maghr).
- Translative ("appointed as"): same structure as become — the postposed hyphen-joined fær-dúe flag + -r state-noun object + causative verb (Mith fær-dúe Xæxr ghiæanea "made him king"; Mith fær-dúe Cáithoorhr oothíthea "appointed him general"). A goal-dress division glimpsed: -r state-nouns travel with ghiæan/oothíth; farm takes bare Væx; the du-dress holds Duílúch.
- Partitive: e presides; the enclitic 'ya is the default definiteness inside it (ssai e Frælithi'ya "two of the children"); lus does not appear there. Partitive quantifiers use the same Q-e frame.
- Benefactive vs recipient: doing-for wears dúe (Ten dúe Piell í átea); giving-to keeps duím (Ten duím Piell í gæn) — benefaction never swallowed by gift. dúe's three offices: purposive linker (dúe fith), infinitive-subject flag (dúe sê), benefactive; also "for / out of" (Byræao Stár dúe Ruth "out of love for Red"). dúe's two seats (preposed dúe sê; postposed fær-dúe): conditioning unruléd; dúe/dué accent fork open.

- Price rides dúe. Value: the e-frame, with the Lyr/Lund currency-weight split and the worth-relative. Distance and duration: bare measure-NPs. Extent: the N-e-measure frame. "ago" = duáo + measure.
- Circumstance ("with X"): positive — the relative packs it, mé-e trailing, atá (the accompaniment stands as temporary second subject): Niíl Hín ythénŷ reinach Sáinsu mé-e atá. Negative, three roads: aoa atá · atá'thte · restructured with thé + ææá-e + plain bhie — the absent thing denied subjecthood; the be-choice tracks existence.
- Prepositions & relational words: mé with · e of · by via/through/as-process · dræao from (second office: the passive agent — the will; by the channel) · yth past/over/beyond · Oob under · In at/in (time: category-blind) · duín in/into (state arrived at) · dús toward-the / dúil toward-a · u- = du- toward (the du→u reform declared — "horrible confusion" expected; check every u-/du- sighting) · duáf upward (variant dúaf) · ufel · dúy to-through · uýth · aoíth before (bare time-Nouns presumed) · aoyth like (recorded a preposition; near-pair with aoíth) · wythil despite · metalie inclusive-of · duílin within · drúráao since/after (the posterior country whole) · dúiri until/unto (also the honorific) · duáo ago. P+P compounds exist (duín < du + In). Exclusion = the negated y-clause; addition = the aich-chain.
- Attributive adjectives: two strategies side by side — Adj-lead (reinach Sáinsu, Iarnach Ixixái) and tmesis-fold; pronoun-compounds put the adjective last (sê-fær). A presumed blood-law: ææá-e leads its NP; mé-e trails.
- Vocative: the trills Δ / V; intimacy Scéan-teos. The familiar possessive [kin]-[absolute] (rhié-færs, sídia-teos) — kin-noun lowercase; reaches epithets as mock-honorific (státachái-færs "His Idiocy"); presupposes the known bond. The te...'os kin-frame (te'rhié'os "parent-mine") reads as te-(person) + 'os possessive-former (unconfirmed).
- The absolute construction: usually a topic clause wearing an epithet — O X Δ / O X V (O státachái-færs Δ dúe sê fæ niíl Pat sulænea).
- The infinitive: the toward-prefix on the verb — u- makes usót "to go"; subjects ride dúe (dúe sê ... usót); goals prefix likewise (uúiafth "Heavensward"). Preferred reading: the topic clause fronts as an as-frame (S'úiafth-e'in — dúe sê S'eg'in usót).
- No heavy-shift, ever: weight goes to a fresh Aich—sentence or packs into the ythénŷ-relative; verb-last absorbs it.
- Nonrestrictive relatives ride clefts: the paradigm ythé/ythénŷ // ythés/ythésnŷ.
- Labels: the fragment-licence's own case. Honorific style: Alcuilaí, dúiri. The self-vow reads as intention. Purpose: by dúe and by by.
- Incorporation: subjects never; IOs may.
- We-firemen: apposition with mé (mith Lúgrchainr-mé "we firemanbeing-with").

15 · Voice, aspect, mood

- Passive: participle + eibh, patient as subject (farmea eibh); tense-transparent. The agent is where the deed comes from: a dræao-source (Dræao lus Ufín Ooraithr fæ ghiæanea — killed-being received as a dark gift; existence-as-donation speaking even in death). Other-constituent passives yes; IO passives no. Object-drop is free (which verbs resist: watched). Impersonals form from three verb-types.
- Causative: ghiæan by frame (also the become-copula: Duílúch Fæ'du'ærs fæ ghiæan; and "get over": by ghiæan). Becoming/appointing: fær-dúe + -r state-noun + causative verb (ghiæan, oothíth). Ditransitive causatives yes; the causee omissible. Dynamic vs static = ghiæan vs eibh. Anticausative: silence.
- The becoming-gift is also the passive-with-agent's frame; ghiæan takes du-marked goal-states (Duílúch).
- Aspect: bare = perfective · dús [X-X] = progressive/imperfective (whether it wraps statives like "knowing": watched) · gnomic = the habitual · ghiæan = ingressive · tenure = iterative · stíl- = the perfect, in all three tenses (Ten stílsótea; double pluperfect Ten úteo tes St'sót-sót'íl stílgænea; future perfect Iëao As í iëátea) · thuíl = the terminative, four free orders · the one-form perfect keeps its several readings. stil "still" (phase) pairs with thúil "no longer"; stíl- stacks on participles (stílbrís "still-breaking").
- Mood: Syá = potential and contingent; the certainty ladder is assembled from standing pieces; Mee = monitory; aich sin = consecutive.
- The Verbless Eternal Past and Future (world / worldn't — the ceremonial deeps): Gil (not Gil't) with its own semantics; Hthom swallows propositions whole; the =-chain links (name and reach open); the coda þis-e stands (typed bis-e ratified as the keyboard's toll); force-pronouns Ton and þin.
- Tenure-predication ratified. 2983-class truths mark by donation and marcæn.

16 · Derivation & morphology

- -ea = the done participle / past (Brísea "broken", scéalerea "written", pliguea "folded", gænea "given", farmea "made", átea, atátea, craigea, laítea, sulænea, rüstea...). ië- = future. -'thte/-'t fuse for the negatives across all tenses.
- Reduplication X-X = the verbal noun / gerund ("the X-ing"): Fith-Fith, Farm-farm, Brís-brís, Othœsræ-othœsræ "outlawing", Insaig-insaig "voting", Sinótæn-sinótæn "the following", greibach-greibach "the believing", Fœdh-fœdhýa, Glaoh-Glaoh, Côs-Côs, Chís-Chís, shrai-shrai, Crith-crith, Scliéclu-Scliéclu, Drúnhœme-Drúnhœme, Útcár-Útcár. Reduplication is the gerund-maker; the doubled stem names the act itself, and articles/genitives wrap it as any noun. Reflexives survive nominalisation by the eës-split gerund (Eë'shrai-shrai's sê-fær); no possessive-subject scaffold. Nouns from clauses: the fold-road plus the gift test. Fith-Fith (formal gerund) vs Fith-fith (colloquial, lowered second capital): split presumed deliberate.
- -ach = quality adjective (Stát→Státach, Grëach, reinach). -aí = the abstract former (Státachái "idiocy", Grëachái, Ærmuchái, mordachái, Alcuilaí; skips -ach when -ach would be absurd: Úrsapfarmaí "brickmakery"). -ië = noun/degree-word → adverb (mêdhië, nirë, elinië, mordachië, craithië; also Ghraíe "fourily"). -r = the state/unit-noun former "-being" (Xæxr, Maghr, Statr, Gheor, Cáithoorhr, Ooraithr, wínr as suffixoid, and the unit-road for masses: uain Wícr). -æn = the verbalizer (elf/elfæn; yiusætæn). -iya = one-who / that-which, agentive-relativising (Thérafthyiya "therapist", Líciya, Sísiyaoýa). -os = possessive-former in the kin-frame (te'rhié'os). -eith = the ordinal (ainteith "first", ghslár-ghüleith). -ê = the pluraliser, plain and simple — not numeral-exclusive (Úrsapê, Síulnê, Tonnaê, Nímhogê, Fræliithi irregular); one plural, with phrasal distributivity. -as = the echo suffix, vowel-harmonising — the attested case of suffix-harmony. af-/fel- = orientational-affect prefixes (up / down; the Noun's capital survives mid-word: afŁamis, felCne..., afStrœ...).

- Adjectives derive from adjectives via the degree circumfixes (Or...il / Ro...il) and -mýa. Adverbs DO modify adverbs — through the degree/attenuator syntax, not a dedicated suffix (Ten í or'mordachië'il — 't craithië fithea "not-insufficiently-enormously hungrily ate"). The attenuator family roil/oril/or...il/ro...il: headcount watched.
- Tmesis-fold words are Nouns by the gift test. Derivation is closed: no further derivational machinery beyond the above.

17 · Numerals & dating

- Year-names, base 2+30 (base 60): a year-name has two places, A-B = A×60 + B, hyphen-joined; the first element capitalises, the second goes bare. Each place (1–60) is one of 30 pair-stems × 2 forms: ODD wears the bare stem, EVEN its gh- twin — mutation doing numerical duty. Attested stems: Slár 9 / Ghslár 10 · Ül 17 / Ghül 18 · Sfeith 21 / Ghsfeith 20 · Îæth 27 / Ghîæth 28 · Ínhe 43 / Ghínhe 44 · Raíwíl 49 / Ghraíwíl 50 · Heatth 57 / Gheatth 58. OPEN: the Sfeith pair runs {20, 21} against the others' {odd, odd+1} — direction unruled; unseen stems await.
- Canon checks: 44.27 Ghínhe-îæth = 2667 I.T. (Changing outlawed) · 49.21 Raíwíl-sfeith = 2961 (the Oath's end) · 49.43 Raíwíl-ínhe = 2983 (the Bródlainn riots) · 49.57 Raíwíl-heatth = 2997 (the present) · 10.18 Ghslár-ghül = 618 (the Olympiad). One Sgiesaetthum = 120 years = 2.0.
- The analytic counting forms (raí-ghíl-ssaighisseith and kin) are not used; the year series is the one numeral canon.
- Ordinal: -eith (ghslár-ghüleith Ćlimpiad-e "the 10.18th Olympiad"). Possessive year: the Or'...'ai tmesis frame (Mis Or'ghínhe-îæth'ai yDuý.r.r "our 2667th-year"). AD years read as digit-pairs, not base-60 (Uain-éx o slár-cliffýa -anno Domini- = 1695); digit-mode stems: Uain 1, Cliff 5, Éx 6, Slár 9 (their year-series pairs unruled). Dates exist by donation (Raíwíl-heatth mith gæn "it is 2997"); spans mark with marcaen.
- Small counting cardinals (not year-stems; the converter's stem table unaffected): 1 Aint · 2 Ghaint · 3 Raí · 4 Ghraí — unmarked odd, gh- even, the year-stems' own pairing; ordinal ainteith "first"; 5 and 6 unmade. Counting table so far: 0 ssíns · 2 ssai · 5 cliff · 6 éx · 8 As · 1000 thíthíl.
- After numerals the noun stands in the counted -ê form (éx Nímhogê, thíthíl Tonnaê); the numeral+counted-ê phrase fills e's complement in measure frames. Bare numerals take no mutation. Attributive numerals and the compound-quantifier road: settled standing machinery.

18 · Phonology & prosody

- Prosody-blind: no fixed word-accent; no canonical peak; no length; no tone; no segmental effects from intonation. The trills Δ/V are the one exception, running parallel to the segments.
- Local suffix-harmony (-as attested). Vowels free under the seam-law. No consonant harmony; no phonotactic restrictions beyond seam-and-toll. þ and V are loan-flavoured.
- Letter values (Danæam → English): t = d · th = t · d = soft th (the) · þ = hard th (thank) · é = ay · á = ay · ú = ooh · e = eh · u = ah · a = uh · gh = sth (a hissed th, nearer sthsh; sth is unmistakable) · sc = sh · tsc = sk · sch = ch · ch = h (word-finally or after á: k) · h = glottal stop-t (meditative → medi'a'ive) · sh = a hissing sound · æ = ee'eh · œ = euh · î = eye · â = a (bat) · ê = eh (as e) · ó = owe · o = o (dot) · f = v · ff = f · bh = v · mh = v · rh = hr · nh = n · gn = n · z = soft s · s = hard s (legacy exceptions: the s of Síonæiya = sh) · w = u or w · ui = wih · ao = ow · œw = aw · ý = ee · í = ee · ÿ = ee'eh · ï = ee'eh
- Pronunciation keys: æ = "the ee in eel: a lossy ee-eh diphthong" · u/oo = "the ool in eel" · th ≈ [h] · gh sounds [sθh]-wards · Rhié "Hrjaiy" · Féras "Fay-raiss" · ufsae "Oofschye" /aɪ/ · færs like "fierce" · aoyth "ow-eefh" · dræao "Dree-ow" · lus "loose" · Ufín "Oofeenn" · Ooraiθr "Oo*raih-rr" · fæ "fee" · ghiæanea "sthfihi-ee-ah-neh-eh".

19 · The mysterious ios

- ios is bound to thas — obligatory wherever thas stands; "ios is the eternal companion of thas, not thas of ios". Elsewhere ios arrives as the resonance demands. Echoes strip it even from thas.

20 · Open watches

- Forms & lemmata: Nímhog vs Nimhog (í kept pending) · dúe vs dué accent · sain "good" vs "great" · Piell vs Cruích "face" · laí "see" vs "say" (saí "say" canon) · sírffrach vs írsifarach "silvery" · dræœa beside dræao · Langaír "tongue" vs Langaí · duáo/dúao · Frœ bare · rein unminted · Me'hair'os parse · férás-ufsaie atomic or split · plain-letter suspects (Wíc, yound, Math, Claim, Gloiyornugh, fith, sôt, slee) · nugænea < nu- + gænea? · múlchtma's -tma · eg's class · Grainê/Nímhogê lemmata · the different-word unminted.
- Morphology: the attenuator family's headcount · -ach beyond the attested · further Adj→Adj formers and the P-sequence half of P+P compounding · the 'in→'n elision (free variation?) · the 's in Te'fhó'rhié's'os · the te... 'os re-reading (unconfirmed) · Ydúynŷ's anatomy and trigger · the seam-doubled æ in fæ'uîm'ær (fold presumably open only to splittable pronouns) · þin~þis / Ton~Tonu conditioning · the =linker's name and reach · Fith-Fith/Fith-fith split (presumed deliberate) · noun-capitalisation suspended inside tmesis-compounds (presumed) · seam-dress scaling (presumed law) · host-minimality threshold (viable-shell hypothesis).
- Syntax: the participle's seat (person-conditioned or free) · become's two goal-dresses (division firming) · dúe's two seats · the dash-hung clitic's conditioning · kit-docking inside the scér-frame · the fæ-frame's full exemplar · overt resumptives under topic-markers · the folded contrastive topic in the wild · a bare-clitic fragment · the multi-topic exemplar in Danæam ink · the return-marker unattested · two y-offices crossing · lone conjuncts in the resumptive-í frame · ranking among glow-stamps · multiplicities beyond two · the negator-avoidance rationale · 'maya unattested · gæn vs mé-e · niil-topics · yth as passive-agent device or fronting · ír vs fær animate/inanimate · the stative ban on dús · the object-drop resister-list · aoíth with bare time-Nouns (presumed) · aoyth's class · Rîbha-e conditioning (the of-word hangs by hyphen where it cannot stand free — before the doorless and inside compounds; inference) · the resumptive frame's past/future be-faces (presumed by the grid) · names after e unlenited · Δ's reach as a general boundary-vocable · the e's fate in the smoosh (presumed elided) · mith "we will-dig" (comitative or homonym) · quote-marks on "s'aige'n" (presumed quotative dress) · John-spellings elsewhere (Scóhn the nativized) · the elliptical optative's reach · slee'ya (degree-reading or doublet).

- Also open: tenure-composition for absolute vs contingent state (gænyin/gilæn one composition away) · vowel harmony's extent (-as attested) · very = dúira'ya? · the reciprocal intransitive (labile = voice design) · intonation × stress (tone-half moot; stress-half hangs on stress's own day).
- If the ideophones ever gain melody, the no-tone rulings reopen.
- Deferred: the remaining phonology-paradigm cells · two numeral tables · the superlative system's remainder.

Clause & phrase syntax

- Become-copula: ghiæan — Duílúch Fæ'du'aers fæ ghiæan.
- Order: O-S-V, except first person: S-O-V.
- Dummy subjects: dummy-donors extend — Chair í gæn / Mith Me'hair'os gæn ("Rain it gives / We Rain-ours give").
- Verbs freely objectless: Theváre fæ ("Fæ devours") — V+S intransitive when not 1sg/pl.
- Indirect objects: a separate category — Duîm-fær niil Rîbha fæ gæn ("To-with-fær a book fæ gave").
- Other verbal arguments: tmetic, plus by, mé, duîm — duîm fith "to eat with", mé ios-thurn "with there", by ghiæan "get over".
- Attested argument combinations: V+S; S+V (1sg/pl); OSV; SOV; IO+DO+S+V; S+IO+DO+V (1sg/pl); PP+S+V; S+PP+V (1sg/pl).
- Constituent order: Isc mæ fith for all sentence-types except 1sg/pl; Oob lus Math also fine.
- Adverbials tend to front. Types: time, place, manner; order can jumble for emphasis.
- Obligatory adverbials: only the tmesis-nominated du, which needs a du-modified adverb for its being-given.
- Adjective phrase, operational definition: wrappable in or...il; may host a noun; fits "aoa sin't ___" ("seems/so-about ___").
- Adjective arguments: by the P stock or by tmesis; one argument per adjective; order PP–adjective (fær uperya e "her proud of").
- Subjectless adjectives: Clach í bhie ("Cold it is"); Clach tens bhie ("Cold me is" — 1sg/pl without subject).
- Adjectives take no direct objects — tmeses and compounds instead: Ten férás-ufsaie más ("I boy-crazy am").
- Adjective indirect objects via by-phrases: tes Sáinsu gáns by "my task-set useless via"; lus Sáinsu eës Hrádai fiil by "the task-set of-the crown loyal via".
- Other adjective arguments: e-phrases of content (Wíc yound e "of water full") and the double-negated 'abouts' (aoa Frœ'thte eës "of the nearabouts / in the area").

- Adjective-modifiers: adverbs (sinya holdh), set-nouns (mhís e Ho'du'ldh), PPs (holdh lus Sáinsu eēs Lethr by), clauses, curses (holdh • O • Mee S'i'pún'il'n í aoa gæn), circumfixes — "muchly tall; lots of tall-towardness; tall for a halfling's purposes; tall—and woe if it gives no likeness-to-a-tower".
- Degree on adjectives: circumfixal (Or...il / Ro...il) and clitic ('ya); putting those same markers directly on adjectives yields irregular emphasis.
- Case-marked NP as adjective-modifier: Holdhmÿa iy tens "taller than me" (mÿa: positively contrary).
- Nonfinite adverbial clause on an adjective: Or'threig'il cōs by "not-tired-enough to sleep".
- Modifier–adjective order: everything after the adjective, though a rogue adverb may illegitimately tmete and digest an initial adjective.
- Adjective + argument + adverbial together — untmeted or clean tmesis: degree, argument, adverbial; dirty tmesis: degree, adverbial (nest layer 2), argument.
- Adverbial phrase, operational definition: that which can strand a polarity clitic.
- Adverbial-modifiers: 'ya, 't/'thte, aoa, oril, roil, or...il, ro...il, and double-negative-modified adverbs (aoa niri'thte "not justn't" = "just about": aoa niri'thte ios thurn). Adverbs modify adverbials via this same set.
- PPs modify adverbials with by, lending through-ness and a process underway: lus Owis malach by "the night late through".
- No official cases; by can drop for bare measure-nouns.
- Adverbial clauses on adverbials: chained sentences, reduced and unreduced clefts — slee'ya iy mæ silgá "faster than you think"; Thas slee mæ silgá yiosnÿ slee'ya'ma atá "What you think fast is even faster" (-'ya'ma = "even x-er").
- Modifier–adverbial order: degree before, clause after; degree wraps the adverb when tmeted.
- Several modifiers on one adverbial: stack freely, tmetable — yail ro'arch'il sôt by or ya'ro'arch'il'il sôt by "much too far to walk". by = as-a-process-or-motion-undergone.
- Prepositional phrase, operational definition: that which fronts with thénu or tháxya "whom".
- A preposition may govern anything but the subject (certain fragment-types have the subject act on itself — open).
- Prepositions without arguments: yes — orphaned clitics, free adverbs, compounds (tmesis nests, suffixes, prefixes, portmanteaus).
- Prepositions with multiple arguments: Oob • Lus Math o Claim o Gloiyornugh —'ya: Pulsc yiaen ("Dust lies under the mat, curtain, and TV").
- P-modifiers: clitics, double-negatives, and drú "direct", fix "exact", aomeal "straight"; adverbs freely modify Ps.
- PPs modify Ps: Oob lus Phailé fæ dræao nhœme ("Under the bed fæ from comes").
- Measure-NPs modify Ps and trail the PP: Ythús Urgea mêdhië "past the fence by a metre" (mêdhe "metre" → mêdhië "by-a-metre").

- The clefted-P frame (the one adverbial-clause construction on P): Nirġe yinġ sin e niyail e lix iostá Ornbeġl "just at* that moment" (*singularly and exactly 'at' the 'at' in question).
- P-modifier order: drú/lix/aomeal most commonly before P, but sit as happily in the cleft before de-clefting iostá; measure-adverbials trail the PP; cleft-chains ride inside the y-wrap.
- Noun phrase, operational definition: the give test — an NP is what gæn can give (preserving tmesis words as Nouns).
- NP-tail adverbials: lus Through ios thurn "the train there" — sís/ios thurn as postposed deictic pairs.
- NP-level comparative: Niġl holdhmġa Fæ'hín-iy'ær "a man taller than fær" — head Noun tmesized into the standard-pronoun, iy hanging by the tmeter. Superlative and equative pending.
- Multiple modifiers: proximity by relevance, English-style order the tie-breaker — a red big old car; tmesized, a re'bi'o'car'ld'g'd. Tmeting optional.
- One article slot upheld: lus/niġl/possessives share it (*sís lus barred; mhís e Wíc, never *lus mhís e Wíc); in existentials the possessive becomes the article — Mis Scale mith gæn "there is a car".

Coordination

- ax = but — one word, contrast and correction alike.
- Placement: o "and" — before the last and/or between every pair; ær "or" — between every pair; ax — between every pair; æxó "and/or" — before the last and/or between every pair; aoæx "either-or-neither" — patterns as æxó; aoær "neither-nor" completes the family.
- O, the list-initial 'all' modifier: O Cafġ ær Sġ "Coffee or Tea" — options offered, both exist, soft both-at-once; connects only o / ær / ax (O cruel ax fair), never æxó/aoæx.
- The n–1 pattern (between every pair) is obligatory for ær and ax, a licensed variant for o, æxó, aoæx; the single-coordinator-before-the-last pattern belongs to o, æxó, aoæx only.
- Coordination is category-blind: the family coordinates clauses, NPs, APs, verbs alike.
- Parallelism: function-parallelism only — whatever fills the same slot may coordinate, whatever the form. Adjective with participle / state-phrase / gerund; Noun with nominalisation; adverbial types with one another. (Participles not yet in canon — dependency flagged.)
- Voice-mixing under coordination: liberal — a shared subject licenses any voice-mix; subject-identity is the only law.
- No categorical verb-coordination bans — each conjunct bonds back wherever the syntax coheres; Danaeam builds adaptive sentence openers (xyz-xy-xy-x-P:x-o-P:y-o-P:z-o-P:x), including return to an earlier layer; hearers attach clauses by judgment.
- Ellipsis under identity: the second conjunct may drop a repeated be (the tmetic-fragment precedent extends). Echo-gapping declined — retro-repeaters are questions-only.
- Polarity clitics never omit: every conjunct declares its own pole; no inherited negation across o.
- Omission within coordinated NPs / AdjPs / AdvPs: gap or uain, as the resonance serves — the hearer's reach resolves the bare gap; uain stands in as the body. Applies at all three levels alike.

Negation (record-level)

- No negation-coordinator attraction: "Ær 'thte" is a clipped fragment (coordinator + bare pole as a full utterance), not a nor; aocer = neither-nor.
- Neg-raising is the default: Ten yiosnÿ fæ nhøemea silgá'thte — the pole on the matrix verb reads either way; docking the pole low disambiguates (...nhøemea'thte silgá); aoa may wilfully re-ambiguate. Double negatives are disembodiers ("not theren't" = thereabouts), never reinforcers.

Anaphora

- Zero anaphora: zero subjects licensed where be agrees (más, -s carry enough) — a licence, never a law.
- Dropping to-be creates an assumed first person — singular by default, plural if secondary cues show it (Threïg. "I'm tired"); second and third person expect at least be.
- sê, the reflexive: reaches its reporter in reported speech, not confined to S'aige'in. Other anaphora belongs to fæ / í / cíá.
- No special anaphoric pronoun — the settled personal pronouns suffice; the gender-design guards something undisclosed and won't tolerate one. Cultural note: the Síonæyais broadly reject the premise of multiple genders, insisting on fæ regardless of the subject's preference.
- Other anaphoric means: the six-cell text-deixis set — iosiyao "farther back" · iosaoya "farther along" · sísiyao "nearer back" · sísaoya "nearer along" · sísiya "nearer" · iosiya "farther" (back = the already-said; along = the about-to-be-said).
- Anaphora is direction-free; the text-deixis set rides atop as optional precision.
- Within the clause: clause-mates disjoint — fæ...fæ are two fæes; coreference takes the reflexive: sê-fær "færself", naked sê "myself" (second person unrulèd). fær stands last in the compound — an adjective, taking the in-lieu-of-tmesis position.
- Across coordinate structures: free, either direction across o.
- Between main and subordinate clauses: free, both orders, both directions — Fæ yiosnÿ fæ ærmuch atá saige "fæ said fæ was tired"; fronted y-clauses may carry the pronoun before its Noun.
- Between sibling subordinates: free, left-to-right as everywhere; pronouns stack through three clauses (fæ...fæ...fæ) — no siblinghood fence.
- Between sentences: ordinary, no horizon fence (In As í nhøeme attested).
- Next to complementisers: transparent — no positional sanctuaries anywhere; y- and ios cast no shadow.

Reflexivity

- Reflexivity is pronominal: sê — invariable, nonclitic, a free word; compounds as sê-fær. No variable form; person shown by the frame (naked sê = 1st, sê-fær = 3rd, 2nd unrulèd). No verbal reflexive affix; nothing beyond sê bears the office.

- Not clause-bound: sê is logophoric, reaching its reporter across the clause boundary.
- All affixal-reflexive subquestions: n/a — no affixal reflexive exists.
- Reflexive placement: free — the reflexive stands where resonance and speaker please; no positional law.
- The paradigm: sê · í-sê "itself" · sê-fær "færself" · miths-sê "ourselves" — bases are the object series; every antecedent pairs with its own compound, no exotic binding conditions. fær stands last (the adjective's in-lieu-of-tmesis seat).
- Reflexives inside nominalisation: the eës-split gerund — Eë'shrai-shrai's sê-fær "the-praising-of færself"; no English "fær Xing færself" scaffold.
- Reflexives in ordinary NPs: freely — no binding cage was ever built; picture-nouns don't leak; the e-construction (pictures e X-sê) is available signposting, not required.
- Antecedent-less reflexive: naked sê reads "myself" (1st person only).
- Other uses of sê: emphatic — yes. No detransitivising verb-form exists. Alone-duty (sg) and reciprocal "each other" (pl): the alone-construction rides mé — wil cías-sê mé "all by themselves" (a plural lonely "all alone"); wil'ya cías-sê mé reassures the listener.

Comparison

- Comparison = comparative element + particle: mýa (the 'ma+'ya weld) on the compared term, iy introducing the standard — NP or clause alike, always bare (no case, no P-road): Holdhmýa iy tens; sleet'ya iy mæ silgá.
- No standard-only comparison in canon — mýa attends every attested comparative. The degree circumfixes (Or...il / Ro...il) scale degree but do not compare to a standard.
- Comparative-clause ellipsis: everything sheds but the standard-NP — the reduced clause is the unmarked form; a clause standard sheds its repeated pieces all the way down to the name.
- iy never omits. Shedding the rival altogether means shedding the frame too: Holdhmýa. stands as an allowed solitary fragment; Holdhmýa iy*. is absurd — iy never stands without its standard.
- The repeated adjective must vanish; its copula may stay: iy lus Sídia ____ (atá). The degree speaks once.
- Two comparative structures, distinct by syntax, one mýa in both: predicative with free iy (Holdhmýa iy tens) vs attributive with the head Noun tmesized into its standard, iy riding the tmeter (Niil holdhmýa Fæ'hín-iy'ær).
- iy + NP is a bare phrase — no silent structure; clausehood exists exactly where y-marking shows it (iy + y-clause).
- Correlative comparison: the sin...sy hinge (sin opens, sy answers): sin aernmýa sy sainmýa "the hotter, the better". aern "hot" · sain "good". Both mýa-forms written solid, seam-less.

Possession (record-level)

- Alienability rides the donor: mith gæn (we-give) = inalienable, í gæn (it-gives) = alienable — Mis Glaoh-Glaoh tes Sáinsu mé teo mith gæn / Lus Glaoh-Glaoh tes Sáinsu mé teo í gæn.
- Tenure: plain gæn is undefined for tenure and the more common; the marked pair — gænyin (temporally bound) · gilæn (eternally regiving).
- The naming-split (cross-cutting persons/animals/things): unnamed possessa take the prenominal possessive; the uniquely named take the postposed absolute, hyphen-hung on the name (faer 26th dormitory vs Dormitory 26-faers) — extends to ours and theirs. The one-door law explains it: names have no door, so possession hangs on behind. Open cells: the absolute series beyond færs; the ours-cell presumably still bows to the ours-deferral.
- Tense across the gæn family: past -ea, future ië- — gænea o iëgæn o aich gænyinea o iëgænyin o aich gilænea o iëgilæn. gilæn = g'[w]il'æn: wil "all" tmesized into gæn, the hard w paid, welded solid. aich "likewise".

Emphasis (record-level)

- No emphasis by stress or accent — deafness is the law: the Síonæyais shout and stress freely, but irrespective of meaning; clitics and order do the work.
- No emphasis-movement in statements (initial, final, preverbal, or otherwise). Order-shifting lives uniquely in answers to questions, and there it is answerhood mechanics, not emphasis: to "A ghost!?" — A ghost'ya / Ghost — yes / Yes. Ghost'ya.
- Clefting serves declarative emphasis: Ios nhøeme í John atá "It's John that came." Sentence-opening clefters stand bare — no y...nÿ.
- Pseudo-clefting, two grades — full: Sin uain ythénÿ nhøeme ios í John Faevreau atá "The one who came is John Faevreau" (mid-sentence relative wears its y...nÿ wrap: ythénÿ); clipped: Thé nhøeme ios John Faevreau atá (sentence-opening, bare).
- The kit's asymmetry (law): affirmatives double across carriers — bháya'ya; fith'ya bha (clitic on the verb + clipped bha trailing); negatives chain their one morpheme only — fith't o 't o 't, the bare 't riding the coordinator. Chained negation emphasises; stacked negation disembodies. Chain-length unruléd.
- Combinations: the cleft may carry the doubling within (Ios nhøeme í John atá'ya); kit × itself is gradable and open-ended — each link adds a degree (shown on the negative chain; higher affirmative stacks unexemplified).
- The triarchy: constituents → the cleft; polarity → the kit; verbs → repetition. Declarative verb-emphasis is plain repetition after the verb — Fær mæ lathn! Lathn! — where questions echo it before. Whether the verb-repeat grades like the chain: unruléd.
- The decleft doctrine: the cleft is not declefted except manually with iostá (deployed against excessive ambiguity); generally declefting is implicit, signified by atá — every will-be/is/was in a sentence that has hosted a cleft at any point takes iëatá/atá/atáea, even well after the cleft's end (a cleft may end on gæn with the external be still atá). Emphasis docks freely inside the cleft: ...gæn — gæn('ya) — atá... If the cleft itself needs emphasis: kill it and resummon it as a deeply nested tmesis-word. Finite y-clause internals presumably take the same local docking — unconfirmed.

- The resumptive-í frame (NP emphasis): the emphasised NP stands first, í follows reflecting it, and the sentence closes in the general be — never atá, for no ios stood: Rîbha-e John í cía craigea bhie "John's book, they took it." Pied-pipes without trouble: Rîbha-e John í cía oob lus Phailé draëao craigea bhie. Ending such a sentence with atá is common but proscribed — the atá-family is a sentence's memory of a cleft. NP-internals are reached only by pied-piping the whole NP. craig "take", past craigea.
- Conjunct emphasis is a polarity act: the kit-clitic docks on the glowing conjunct in situ — X'ya o Y "X indeed, and Y"; Cafi'ya o Sî. No new machinery; one conjunct may glow alone. The whole tetrad presumably docks conjunct-wise (X't o Y; split-pole X'ya o Y't) — unconfirmed; whether a lone conjunct may enter the resumptive-í frame: moot beneath the no-movement law.
- Multiple constituents may glow at once, each wearing its own 'ya: X'ya ... Y'ya. A negative glow wears its pole inside the stamp — 'tya / 'thteya — so added negators must be avoided (stacking poles slides toward double-negation's attenuation): mixed X'ya ... Y'tya; split-pole coordination X'ya o Y'tya, not bare 't. Two stamps ruled; higher multiplicities presumed. Ranking among stamps unruléd; an 'ma-stamp ('maya) unattested.
- The two-tier system: movement proper leaves nothing behind (like wh-fronting); dislocation leaves the resumptive — í (things) / fæ (persons). No copies, no particles; r.r.s are agrammatical residents thrown anywhere, not grammatical residues.
- The one copy-like colloquialism: Fith-fith: ten fith "I am eating" (vs Ten fith, ambiguous between trait and present act) — first person only; formal equivalent Ten dús Fith-Fith más "I toward-the eating am". In other persons it becomes unpleasantly ambiguous and is ruled out.
- Yes-no question focus: the standing kit — polarity clitics dock on the questioned constituent (Eg'ya / Eg't). Docking within the scér-frame presumed — unconfirmed.

Topic (record-level)

- Three-plus devices: S'air'n X "as per the taking note of X" (Sin + air by standard tmesis) · O · o e X · (the conversational shifter — an elliptical optative, "May what follows concern X", wearing native imperative-family bullets) · Efui · X: (the explicit announcement; Efui "topic") · the for-its-part replica (s'efui-e'in), placed after its topic · the bare Sin X, clause-initial, running bare — the plainest road; S'air'n does not supersede it.
- Closing boundary per device: Efui · X: colon · O · o e X · closing bullet · S'air'n X bare · Sin X bare.
- No bare topic-movement. First-person exception: the smoosh — a single elided o serves as the two os and the O, the closing · splitting out to the up-trill Δ: O Scóhn Δ ten mac "And John — I like." First-person-only, optional — the first person's third colloquial license beside Más-ten and Fith-fith: ten fith.

The Δ is a segmental vocable at the topic boundary, not sentence-tune; the deafness law unbreached. Scóhn = John nativised; mac "like".

- The topic-marker rides parenthetically: Níil Fhós — si'te'rhié'os-e'n — o ten duín Ëlif elfæn bhie "A bitch — as of my mother — and I hope in Hell." Position free; the single clause-final bhie closes over the wedged material — the architecture deliberately loose. Fhós "bitch" · Rhié "parent" · duín "in (to-at)" · Ëlif "Hell" · elf "hope (n.)" · elfæn "hope (v.)".
- No final-seat topic: the clause ends on its be. Afterthoughts are fresh clauses pointing at the former (model: Ær 'thte "Or not"), never movement — so heavy-shift can never be misread as topicalisation.
- The seam-law of topic placement: the topic-parenthetical rides anywhere, but only at the seams — every licit slot stands at a major-constituent boundary, never phrase-internal (not inside an NP, a before-phrase, or the verb-complex): Air • Mís ssai Grainê "s'aige'n" aoíth dulagá mith iësulæn "Note!: our two graves (as said) before embarking we will-dig." The seam after Air • re-strikes its •. The s'X-e'in dress is productive (s'ulfæth-e'in beside s'efui-e'in); the free shape sin e X stands beside it, dash-bounded; s'aige'n shows the 'in → 'n elision runs freer than suspected. ssai "two" · Grainê "grave(s)" · aoíth "before" · dulagá "embark(ing)" · sulæn "dig" (iësulæn "will-dig") · Ulfæth "revenge-journey". Open: mith comitative-or-homonym; the quote-marks' status; Grainê's number after ssai.
- Marker splitting on the dislocation tier: topic-dislocation wears a topic-marker; emphasis-dislocation rides bare — one tier, two dresses, the marker disambiguating. The thinnest marker (the smooshed O ... Δ) suffices, and beneath it the resumptive itself may elide — O Te'fhó'rhié's'os Δ ten láíea "Bitch-mother-mine, I saw [her]" — the seat warm but invisible; whether an overt í/fæ may also stand there: open. láíea "saw" (past of láí). Te'fhó'rhié's'os: the te...'os kin-frame's first compound guest; the 's before 'os — compound-linker or migrated coda — watched.
- Initial dislocation = the first seam, after any sentence-particles. No separate contrastive-topic mechanism: glow reaches a topic only through the tmesis-fold road — a tmesis-word swallowing the clause with 'ya flagged on the folded word's tail (full exemplar awaited).
- No dislocation-proper to final position. The clarification-tail is a topic-reminder behaving as any parenthesis on the post-clausal seam: Níil sain Hín fæ bhie — mao Rhié "A good man he is — your mother." Pointing fragments are free in form and may carry orphaned clitics. sain "good".
- Dislocation at any seam, per the seam-law and parenthesis-equivalence; never inside a phrase. The r.r. alone stays outside the law.
- No topic agreement: agreement's only faces are subject-bound (más 1st person, plural -s, the courtesy-bhies); nothing tracks topichood.
- No other topic-marking means beyond the ruled family; intonational means barred by the deafness law.
- Combinations: two markers may stack on one topic, and a marker combines with the for-its-part replica as reprise — Efui • Sin X; Efui • Scean: ... (s'efui-e'in) Stacking carries no formality ladder — combinations live unranked.

- The topic-licence is í's sayable range: what gæn can give, í can say, and what í may say can stand as topic; fæ's range rides within by the twin-law (í things, fæ persons).
- Topicalisable — NPs: yes, the core case, dress intact; gerund-NPs by NP-hood. Whether indefinite niil-phrases make poor topics: unruléd.
- Adjectives: not as themselves, predicative or attributive — the door is nominalisation.
- Verbs: not as verbs — the gerund door stands open (the reduplication Nouns).
- Adverbials: not per type — a nominal of the circumstance (Ornbeíl "moment" and kin) enters by the Noun door; the deictic adverbs (sís/ios thurn) are demonstrative-built, not í-resumable — outside the licence.
- Main-clause constituents: yes — objects attested, and whole main clauses by the riding sin e X. Base order is OSV, so subjects sit medial except in first person; the marker makes a subject-topic audible regardless of seat.
- Subordinate constituents: freely, at any depth, finite or nonfinite — resumption is anaphora. The path leaves a trace by depth: the first subordinate clause is un-y-marked; the second and beyond are y-marked but never nŷ-marked. The question-path wears the full seal, the topic-path the bare prefix. The riding sin-e-X topic, seatless, leaves no path. Collision of the two y-offices in one sentence: watched.
- NP-constituents: only by whole-NP pied-piping — the part never travels alone.
- Coordinate constituents: no — the coordinate island holds whole; conjuncts travel together or not at all, and in-situ dressing fails — every topic-marker does double duty (Sin as "as", o as "and"). The one wall anaphora may not pierce. The frame is the resumptive í: it resumes, not reflects.
- Multiple topics at once: yes, so long as every secondary topic takes the object position — one primary topic (the shared subject) spoken once and elided thereafter; secondaries stacked in order, each the object of its own predicate; the predicates follow in matching first-to-first order, verb-final discipline making the pairing legible. A referent may be topicalised twice, each visit earning its own predicate. No single-topic law.
- Movement is never involved in topic: topics ride as parentheticals born at their seams, or stand in the marked dislocation — fronting-with-a-double, not movement. No copies (the first-person Fith-fith exception stands); the dislocation's proform is í/fæ, eliding beneath the topic-marker in the attested exemplar; no particles — nothing moves, so nothing strands; the visible surface shows nothing, by elision.
- Topicalisation is optional everywhere; degree of preference unranked.

Heavy shift

- No heavy shift, ever: weight goes to a fresh Aich—sentence (Lus Hín nhøeme. Aich— mé-e fær éx Nímhogê eibh "The man came. Also — with him six dogs were") or packs whole into a ythénŷ-relative inside its NP (Lus Hín ythénŷ éx Nímhogê mé-e eibh nhœme), verb-last order absorbing it unmoved. All heavy-shift subquestions have no object. aich "also", the chain-connective · éx "six" · Nímhogê "dog(s)" · mé-e "with-of" opens the accompaniment-existential, a second possession road beside the gæn engine (division of labour watched); the with-phrase survives relativisation with its complement gapped.

Word-class fences

- Adpositions are invariably preposed (dús, du, yth, ythús, drú, lix, duîm, dræao, by, arch...); no postpositions.
- Numeral vs quantifier: a numeral counts bare with its Noun in the -ê form (ssai Grainê, éx Nímhogê) — the counted-ê is its exclusive badge; a quantifier governs partitive e (mhís e Wíc). But partitive e is no membership card — e's of-office is general territory: Chair-Chair e Emma "rain of blood"; síis Tíc e Bis "This House of Grief". chair "rain" (via Chair-Chair) · Emma "blood" · Tíc "house" · Bis "grief" · Ruimais "novel".
- The article class is defined by du-fusibility: lus → dús, niíl → dúil. Other offered fences (particles the reducible, clitics the orphan-survivors, pronouns the toll-payers) remain true behaviours, unpromoted to definitions.

Syntactic functions & the function-country (record-level)

- Syntactic functions are expressed by order, prepositions, and clitics — never case: the language has no case morphology.
- An unexpressed subject is carried by be-agreement and default: más/másas name the 1st person, -s carries number; the wholly naked predicate belongs to the speaker.
- Indirect object: duîm-fær — one flag, hyphen-dangled onto the pronoun; it may also tmete: fæ'uîm'ær — in the fold the roles invert, the pronoun hosting and the flag guesting, duîm paying its hard toll (d → 'uîm), the host split fæ...ær with the æ seam-doubled (anatomy watched). IO-before-DO order stands attested, unpromoted to law.
- Object of comparison: iy + bare standard — no case.
- Object of equation: the sin...sy correlative — sin mordach sy fær "as big as fær"; in practice under OSV the sy-phrase takes the object slot and fronts: sy fær sin mordach fæ bhie. Equation's sin...sy stands apart from comparison's iy — two standards, two markers; the standard wears the object form. mordach "big" · sy "so-then". The superlative alone remains pending.
- Other verb-governed objects — the standing list: nhœme + dræao; gæn + duîm-X; ghiæan + by; degree + dúe + infinitive; be + mé-e X. Exemplar: Ydúynŷ lus Ti'amár'th tes Meilstory mao Łamis atá "In the ocean of pain my diving suit your saliva is" — with af-/fel- (up/down) variants: felTi'amár'th ... afŁamis / afTi'amár'th ... felŁamis.

- The Verbless Eternal Future (that which will always never be going to happen): O þin-e • Hthom-e'ya o Gil • Hth' — Gil:Ti'amár'th-dú'lus'y=Meilstory-teos=Łamis-mæos—'om. þis-e V Hthom't. Gil without 't: with 't the noncreation force would read as not-hers and the sequel merely possible; without, "can, has, does, and will never exist(/ed)". The Verbless Eternal Past (that which will always already have happened): Ton o-e • Hthom-e'ya o Aól'ya • Hth' — Aól:...—'om. Tonu-e Δ Hthom'ya. Ton/Tonu "he" the creation force, þin/þis "she" the noncreation force — ceremonial pronouns outside the universal-fæ system; Gil and Aól are nouns of the Object-of-(Negative-)Giving's-Force, "gift" and "entry" poetic readings. Machinery: Tith splits Ti...th around amár; Hthom splits Hth'—...—'om around a whole proposition — proposition-sized guests take dash-seams; the =-linker chains verbless predication; -os revealed as the absolute-possessive former — teos "mine", mæos "yours" (mao → mæ at the seam); Hthom't "worldn't" — the kit as this register's only verb-force; Ydúynŷ the y-marked in-word, co-occurring with atá per law.
- Become's complement wears the toward-series: Duílúch Fæ'du'ærs fæ ghiæan — the goal-state du-marked. Whether a bare complement also lives (ghiæan as a seventh be-coat): unruléd.
- Subject-complement stands bare — no dús, no e: Ten Væx farmea eibh "I was made king" / Væx fæ eibh farmea; vs become: Ten Xæxr ghiæanea "I became king" / Xæxr fæ ghiæanea. A passive shape attested before voice-country opens — participle + be, its seat person-asymmetric across the exemplars (before be in 1st person, after in non-1st) — watched, not law. Væx "king" · farm "make".
- Object-complement stands bare in the same dress: Mith fær Væx farmea "we made him king" — S–O–Comp–V, mith fronting by the first-person seat rule, the complement owning the pre-verb chair. The becoming-gift alternative: Mith fær-dúe Xæxr ghiæanea — the person wears dúe, postposed and hyphen-joined; the -r state-noun rides as object; ghiæan takes causative duty by frame alone. Xæxr travels with ghiæan; farm takes bare Væx.
- Adjective-governed objects: the standing estate — P-stock trailing (fær uperya e; gáns by), tmesis-compounds, one argument per adjective. férás-ufsaе "boy-crazy" fully glossed: Férás "boy" (casual sense: sexual tops and/or dominants — an agender culture, gendered sub- and minority cultures notwithstanding), ufsaе "insane" (deliberate ae, /ai/). aoyth "like" — a preposition, the vacancy-blocker: ...aoyth rhié-færs "like his father"; no like-adjective need exist. The familiar possessive: [kin-noun]-[absolute-possessive] — rhié-færs "parent-his", sídia-teos "sibling-mine" — the kin-noun decapitalised (the everted frame keeps its swallowed lowercase; the toll is not refunded). sídia "sibling" — context renders sister or brother. The different-word still waits.
- Passive agent: a dræao-source; the passive-with-agent speaks in the ghiæan-frame: Dræao lus Ufín Ooraithr fæ ghiæanea "By the enemy fæ was killed". dræao the will; by the channel. O before S in the non-first person. Ufín "enemy" · Ooraithr "killed-being" (oorraith + -r, patient-flavoured). Whether the farmea-eibh shape takes the same dræao-agent: presumed, unattested — watched.
- Topic's morphological expression is the marker family itself: the compounds S'air'n and productive s'X-e'in; the marks • and Δ and the per-device boundary punctuation — punctuation carrying grammar. No case, no agreement.

- The absolute construction is usually a topic clause, the familiar possessive as its epithet-vehicle: Státachái-færs "His Idiocy" (in-clause lowercase; the construction presupposes the bond is already known). Attested pair: O státachái-færs V sê-fær fæ ooraiþ "His Idiocy, himself he killed" (unkind — the V colours it) · O státachái-færs Δ sê-fær niil Pat fæ sulænea "His Idiocy, færself a hole fæ dug" (amused — the Δ). The trills' affect-split reaches syntax. The seat rule holds universally; the compound is sê-fær (fær last — an adjective, the in-lieu-of-tmesis position); naked sê never 3rd. ooraiþ "kill" · Státachái "idiocy" (Stát → Státach → Státachái) · Státr "idiot-being" · Pat "hole" · sulæn "dig".
- The infinitive: the toward-prefix bound to the verb — u- (= du-): usót "to go"; the infinitive's subject rides a dúe-phrase; goals may prefix likewise (uþiuaftþ "Heavensward"; Lþiuaftþ "heaven", the Noun small inside the complex). Plain: Dúe sê uþiuaftþ usót...; more likely a topic-read: S'þiuaftþ-e'ín — dúe sê S'eg'ín usót... — the goal fronted in the as-frame, resumed in-clause by S'eg'ín "such-way" (eg the way-element; class open). The du→u reform: some du-prefixes become bare u-; which ones — unresolved, watched. Bare sê here = "the-self", the unmarked generic.
- Nominalisation ("John's refusal of the offer"): by reduplication with the eēs-split genitive frame — the gerund X-X inside opened eēs: Eē'shrai-shrai's faer-sê. Fuller nominalisation typology open.
- The nonlocal-function kit: duīm, mé, by, e, In, the du/u-series, Sin, aoyth, dræao, the gæn-frame — each function-cell picks from the kit.
- The without-word: æœá, the object-no; æœá-e "of-no, without" — Ten æœá-e Fía más "I am without food"; Æœá-e Fía fæ is. The second seats is as a be-face beside bhies — division or free variation, open. The from/without twins both breathe: dræao and æœá-e.
- Benefactive: dúe — Ten dúe Piell í átea "I did it for Piell"; the recipient stands apart on duīm — Ten duīm Piell í gæn "I gave it to Piell". Doing-for never collapses into giving-to. át the pro-verb. dúe's offices now three: purposive linker (dúe fith), infinitive-subject flag (dúe sê), benefactive (dúe Piell). Piell the exemplar-name.
- Source rides dræao (fæ dræao nhœme); the finer flavours ("wool from a sheep" — material-source and kin) stand open.
- Circumstance ("a man with dirty hands"): relative packing — Niil Hín ythénŷ reinach Sáinsu mé-e atá... — mé-e trailing its NP, atá by cleft-kinship: the hands stand as a temporary second subject, their being-with served. The negative, three roads: the same with aoa atá, or atá'thte, or restructured — Niil Hín thé æœá-e reinach Sáinsu bhie... — no cleft, no temporary second subject: the dirty hands don't become a subject because their action, being nonexistent, isn't served; existence earns subjecthood, nonexistence is denied it, and the be-choice (atá vs bhie) tracks it. æœá-e leads its NP (determiner-blood) where mé-e trails (preposition-blood). reinach "dirty" (base rein unminted — watched) · thé the no-cleft relativiser. Gentle fork: plain Adj-N (reinach Sáinsu) beside fær-last — post-head seat particular to pronoun-compounds, or one law awaiting reconciliation?

- The possession splits are never NP-internal — they live in the engine: alienability in the donor (mith gæn / í gæn), tenure in the verb pair (gænyin / gilaen), time in the engine's tense (gænea / iëgæn). NP-internal marking tracks naming alone.
- The possessed Noun bears no marking (mis Scale: Scale unmarked — the one-door law); no possessed-marking exists to distinguish alienability or anything else.
- Quality, three co-valid roads: (1) e serves both bearings — Hín e Gree "a man of humour" fronts the quality, lus Gree e lus Hín "the humour of the man" reverses it; order alone tells them apart. (2) -ach derives the quality straight onto the noun: Grëach Hín "a humoured man" (Gree + ach contracts the double vowel to ë — whether that contraction is the general rule: open). (3) Negative quality inherits the circumstance apparatus unchanged — aoa atá, atá'thte, or thé + ææá-e + bhie; ææá-e Gree "without humour". Gree "humour" · Grëach "humorous" · Grëachaí "humorousness".
- Quantity, one frame: Q e N — Níil Scál e thíthíl Tonnaê "a boat of a thousand tons" (the numeral+counted-ê phrase itself filling e's complement; the numeral absorbs one layer of of); Níil Lund e Shar "a pound of sugar". Scál "boat" · thíthíl "thousand" · Tonna "ton" · Lund "pound (weight)" · Shar "sugar".
- Material takes by, not e — means and matter merge: Tíc by Úrsapê "a house of bricks / built of bricks". Contrasts (not material): Tíc e Úrsapfarmaí "House of Brickmaking" — e reserved for abstract/industry association; Tíc dúe Úrsap-Farm-farm "House for Brickmaking" — the purposive dúe fronting a hyphen-compound gerund. Two forks resolved: -ê is simply the pluraliser, not a numeral-exclusive badge (the numeral's own -ê is the same plural); and -ach is skipped when it would be absurd — Úrsapfarnea "brick-made" is sayable, *Úrsapfarmach is not; the language reaches straight past the impossible stage to -aí. Úrsap "brick".
- Manner, three co-valid roads: (1) by Elin ghuethnea "served with verve" — the by-instrumental, unified across material and manner alike; (2) tmesis — El'huethnea'in: Elin splits at el'|'in, hosting ghuethnea toll-paid to huethnea, the verb embedded inside the manner-word (whether Elin's -in tail is kin to Sin's family: a light watch); (3) elinië ghuethnea "vervily served" — Elin + -ië, noun-to-adverb. The negative ("without verve"): unruléd, open. Elin "verve" · ghuethn "serve".
- Cause is a small family, four metaphors for one English preposition: origin-genitive — Ærmuchaí e Síulnê "exhaustion of wounds" (e's of-office reaches cause); gift-given — fær Síulnê fær Ærmuchaí gænea "his wounds gave his exhaustion"; gift-received-from — fæ Ærmuchaí fær Síulnê dræao ghiæanea "he got exhaustion from his wounds" (dræao the source, the fuller ghiæan-frame); destination-arrived-at — Yth fær Síulnê fæ duín Ærmuchaí tugea eibh "over his wounds he was brought to exhaustion" (duín marking the state arrived at). Verb-shaped cause over a plain passive: Yth ír Ralxú lus Both rüstea eibh "the city was ruined by its government" — yth fronting the cause-phrase. by never entered the cause family. No default ruled among the gift-shapes. Light fork: ír "its" beside fær — an inanimate/animate possessive split. Ærmuch "exhausted" · Ærmuchaí "exhaustion" · Síuln "wound" (pl. Síulnê) · Ralxú "government" · Both "city" · rüst "ruin" · tug "bring".

- Purpose rides dúe/dué "to-of" before the infinitive (or raif'il—"t dúe fith "hungry enough to eat") and the low road by (côs by "to sleep"). The dúe/dué accent-fork stands unresolved, gently.
- Function ("used the stick as a club"): the sin...sy equative stretched from adjective-degree to noun-function — Ten sy Cthug sin lus Acusthia lynœa "I used the stick as a club": Ten fronts by the seat rule, the sy-phrase lands in the object slot the rule already names, sin resumes with the true object, the verb closes. Not new grammar — two standing rules meeting. Open note: lynœa spells its past with œ, not plain -ea — possibly a vowel-harmony variant, unconfirmed. Cthug "club" · Acusthia "stick" · lyn "use".
- Reference ("told him about the incident"): e — Ten fær e Atruens'ya saíea — fær bare as the told-object, e carrying the reference relation. By-promotion and the saige-satellite both declined. e's of-office now spans quality, quantity, and reference; material and cause are the two provinces it doesn't reach. Atruens "incident" · saí "tell".
- Essive ("in Berlin as a soldier"): the possessed mé — Ten duín Berolth tes-mé Maghr eibh "I was in Berlin my-with soldier-being": tes hyphen-joins mé into tes-mé — accompaniment made possessed. Maghr = Magh + the -r state-former; essive roles join become-states under one nominaliser. Second attestation — the functive: duín tes-mé Matthsyr "as a teacher" — the construction is productive. Berolth "Berlin" · Magh "soldier" · Matthsyr "teacher".
- Translative ("appointed him as general"): same structure as made-king — Mith fær-dúe Cáithoorhr oothíthea: the postposed hyphen-joined fær-dúe flag, an -r state-noun object, the causative verb closing. Two attestations now (ghiaean for becoming, oothíth for appointing) — a real generalising construction, not one lexeme's frame. Translative and become share one structure, undivided. Cáithoor "general" · oothíth "appoint".
- The partitive family: e presides; inside the e-complement the definite system is five-way (lus does not appear): iocías "those" (ios+cías), sícías "these" (sís+cías), or -ya "the". Full paradigm: Atruens'ya "the incident" (sg, enclitic) · ios Atruens "that" · sís Atruens "this" · sícías Atruensê "these" · iocías Atruensê "those" · Atruensê'ya "the incidents". Demonstratives front the noun and pluralise with cías; the neutral definite -ya rides after, plurality marked on the noun (-ê). The by-partitive (paths through wholes): left open.
- Partitive numeral: the enclitic -ya is the default — ssai e Frælithi'ya "two of the children". Frælithi is an irregular plural of Fræli "child" — pluralisation is not uniformly -ê; some nouns take their own shape.
- Nonpartitive numeral: bare and unmarked — ssai Grainê; with possessive, Mis ssai Grainê (Possessive · Numeral · Noun), no mutation.
- Partitive quantifier: [quantifier] e (lus) [Noun] — mhís e Wíc the attested type. The scale's missing middle (a some-word between ni and yail) is a lexicon gap, not a grammar gap.

- Partitive negative quantifier — a five-dress scale, all riding partitive e + the 'ya definite: niuain e Frælithi'ya "fewer-than-one of the children" · aoa uain e Frælithi'ya "not one of the children" · æouain e Frælithi'ya "none of the children" (the object-no welded to the prop-one) · ssíns e Frælithi'ya "zero of the children" (ssíns — zero joins the numerals) · and the existential road — æeá Frælithi'ya í gænyin "there were no children": æeá direct on the NP, the dummy í giving — nonexistence denied subjecthood. niuain · æouain "none" · ssíns "zero".
- Nonpartitive negative quantifier: æeá direct on the NP (beside the adnominal of-dress æeá-e); the existential wears gænyin with dummy í.
- Price rides dúe: dúe ssai Lundê "for two pounds" — the weight-pound is Lund; the currency-pound is Lyr.
- Value: the descriptive e-frame, quality's own office. The worth-relative attested: ...niíl Borhu yiosnÿ duîm niíl Eœd e cliff Lyrê atá... "a table worth five pounds" — yiosnÿ the y-relative taking atá by the y-law. Borhu "table" · Eœd "worth" · cliff "five" · Lyr "pound (currency)".
- Distance: a bare measure-NP adverbial, no preposition ("chased him a mile").
- Extent: quantity's frame extended — N e measure (+ adjective): "a building of a mile high".
- Concessive: wythil < yth + wil — the all-word welded over the past-word ("despite").
- Inclusion: metaíe "inclusive-of", trailing its NP — Wilhíæ yScéan metaíe "everyone including Scéan"; y- serves as the special subordinate marker for proper nouns. Wilhíæ "everyone".
- Exclusion: most commonly a negated y-clause — Wilhíæ yScéan aoa atáea "everyone except Scéan". The y-law: the y summons the atá family — thé (no y) takes bhie; ythénÿ, yiosnÿ, yScéan (y) take atá; atáea attests the family bending with -ea.
- Addition: the aich (sin) chain — "three people, John also-as".
- Vocative: trills, not a particle — up-energy Δ, down-energy V; the fæ majority express them vocally; obligatoriness unruléd. Riders: the bare-noun clause-initial custom stands; Scéan-teos available in intimacy (the familiar possessive as vocative); the communal existential — O mis Scéan mith dúe silgá gæn "And there is Scéan to think of". silgá "think".
- Citation form: the bare lemma, Nouns capitalised. Quote-nesting: top layer >- <, lower layers »- «-.
- Labels and shop-fronts: bare NPs under the fragment-licence — the licence's paradigm case.
- The local-functions table: at-rest = In; motion-to = dúe (bare du-family); motion-from = dræao; motion-past = by — with duîm, mé, duín, usót beside, and the directions duáf "upward" · ufel "downward" · dúy "to-through" · uÿth "to-over".
- Time: In is THE time-locative, category-blind; the du-family trio — dúiri "until" · drúræao "since/ after/subsequent-from" · duílín "within [all-in]" — plus duáo "ago" (+ measure); measures ride bare. In + [name] covers periods of day, weekdays, months, years, festivals, seasons — the names are uncoined (watched). Frequentative: In + plural (In X-ê "on Mondays"). Punctual-future: In + measure ("back in two hours"). Duration: a bare measure-NP ("lived there two years"). Anterior-general: aoíth "before" + time-Noun. Posterior-general: drúræao. Point-in-period: duílín + period, tense-blind.

- Number: -ê the general pluraliser; irregular plurals live (Fræliþi < Fræli); the copula bends (-s: bhies, másas); niíl carries singular meaning; the singular is unmarked.
- One plural — distributivity is phrasal: Fær Nif e sê-fær Wiunail sulfhœa "everyone blew their nose" — the neutral fæ giving an overt singular-they. Wiunail "everyone" beside Wilhíæ — forked gently; Nif "nose" beside Myth "nose" — flagged.
- Singulatives: the -r suffix is the unit road for masses — uain Wícr "one water-being".
- No noun classes, genders, or classifiers anywhere in canon; nothing marks class on numerals, prepositions, or verbs; loanwords (Scale, Thruh, by, film) simply walk in classless. The pronoun system is deliberately genderless.
- Definiteness is obligatory: a definite NP must be a proper noun, preceded by lus, or enclitic via 'ya. lus lives.
- The definite inventory (proper name / lus / 'ya) is category-blind — abstracts included ('ya or lus on abstracts). Proper names take no article — names have no door: possession hangs behind them, and lus/niíl never stand before them. Obligatory there as everywhere.
- Indefiniteness: niíl is optional; the inventory — niíl, bare plurals, bare mass nouns with the -r unit-road beside; optional throughout. Bare plurals serve, and "there are more suffixes for this than -ê" — the plural family is larger than one suffix: watched. With masses the unit-road is preferred: uain Wícr over niíl Wícr.
- Referentiality is unmarked — niíl and bare Nouns carry referential and nonreferential readings alike. Genericness is unmarked — the bare Noun is generic.
- No obviation — third persons are never ranked; í and the existential-we are not obviating; a person may be stressed with 'ya or de-emphasised with 'thte/'t, but that does not change the core pronoun.
- Free pronouns are not obligatory everywhere: 1st person droppable under más/másas, plural subjects under -s forms; elsewhere the pronoun (or at least be) is expected. Plain noncontrastive use is ordinary; pronouns stand as cleft-focus; no other special conditions.
- "(It is) I": Más-ten — a tonally casual "I'm", first person singular only; no plural or other-person inversions exist.
- Emphatic vs unemphatic pronouns: segmental in both directions — emphasis adds (the kit-stamp in situ; sê as emphatic), reduction ingests (the toll-paid faces inside tmesis — fær → 'ær in Fæ'hín-iy'ær — are the reduced pronouns, seam-bound by definition). Suprasegmental difference barred by the deafness law.

- Pronoun + numeral: mith ssai "we two" is grammatical; no dual needed. No collective/distributive pronoun plurals.
- No avoidance-grammar of titles-over-pronouns, but honorific style exists: Fær Alcuilaí "Fær Radiance"; in full, Fær Alcuilaí Sê-dúi'gheo-e'ri "Fær Radiance Self-Unto-God-of". An open style, not closed grammar — built on the -aí abstracts and Sê-compound epithets. dúiri "unto" < du + niri.
- Nonspecific indefinite pronouns (one): the office is held by mith and í, with a conditioned mæ-substitute — when a real 1pl subject occupies a non-subordinate clause, the generic mith yields and mæ substitutes. No dedicated form; no Nouns serve the office. mith substitutes for I and you in neutral questions. Whether fæ-generic is barred by dignity: open.
- Specific indefinite ("someone"): uain't-aoa — "about one", the double-negative device worn as a chain; plain uain declined.
- Emphatic pronouns: the standing machinery, no new organ — [pronoun] + kit-stamp by the any-class docking law (mæ'ya and kin), sê as emphatic; degrees by kit-chaining, gradable and open-ended; fully regular — the sê-family by base + -sê across the object series (sê · í-sê · sê-fær · miths-sê · cías-sê).
- Selective emphatic ("we, but especially I"): Mith ax ten'ya — ax extended to the selective office with the 'ya stress on the singled member.
- No pronoun–noun same-reference ("we firemen") — instead the mé-apposition: mith Lúgrchainr-mé "we fireman-being-with". Lúgrchain "fireman" < Lúgr "fire".
- Inclusive constructions live ("we (and) the priest" = "I and the priest"), including with pronoun pairs.
- Reciprocals: the plural sê-forms — cías-sê (and miths-sê) read "each other" when heads are many, the resonance deciding; not common nouns. The forms distinguish only their base's person; no case; they alone bear the office; the same forms are the plain reflexives, and with mé they carry the plural alone-duty. The 2nd-person plural: unruled.
- Nonrestrictive relatives are clefts — the relativiser paradigm ythé / ythénŷ // ythés / ythésnŷ.

Voice

- The personal passive exists, one type: the -ea participle + be (farmea eibh), the patient promoted to subject. The active's direct object becomes the passive subject; the indirect object never does; other constituents may.
- The impersonal frame exists — the dummy í (the æcéá ... í gænyin machinery); its passive reach follows the dummy. Formable from DO-verbs with the object retained (át / átea / iëát "will-do"), from other-object verbs, and from objectless verbs — but not from IO-verbs.
- The agent in the passive: the dræao-phrase; by stays the means-channel.
- The passive is periphrastic — the be-grid carries it through every tense and aspect (eibh past, iëao the future-face). Dynamic vs static distinguished: dynamic rides the ghiæan-road; static is the eibh-shape.

- Valency decreases by silence — arguments drop freely under the drop-licence: anticausative by subject-silence ("the water boiled" = boil, subject unspoken); object-drop free and zero-marked (Theváre fæ) — which verbs refuse the drop: watched. No reciprocal intransitive — cías-sê serves; the -self family places pronouns after the word (sê-cías). No other valency-decreasing means attested.
- Valency increases by the causative construction: fæ-r-dúe + -r state-noun + causative verb (Xæxr ghiæanea; Cáithoorhr oothíthea) — of intransitives, transitives, and ditransitives alike; no formal difference by causee agentivity; the causee omits straightforwardly.
- No special reflexive or reciprocal verb-forms — both offices are pronominal.

Aspect & mood (record-level)

- The perfect exists (saige "have spoken" its attestation), in all three tenses — present, pluperfect (Ten stílsótea), future perfect (Iëao As í iëátea) — and the double pluperfect: Ten úteo tes St'sót-sót'íl stílgænea. stíl- is the perfect's former. One form carries all readings — present-result, experiential, begun-and-continuing, just-completed — undistinguished; perfect and recent past are unmarked apart, kinship total.
- The aspect-inventory: perfective = the bare verb, all verbs; imperfective/continuous = the dú-s-frame — Ten dú-s Fith-Fith más "I am eating" (formal), Fith-fith: ten fith (semicolloquial, 1st person only); the stative question — may "is knowing" stand? — unruléd, watched. Habitual = the bare present, gnomic. Ingressive = the ghiæan-frame. Terminative = thuíl, four free orders: saige-thuíl · thuísaige · thu'aige'íl · thuíl saige; completion-before-another = an aoíth-clause. Iterative = the tenure-road (gilæn "regives again and again"). Semelfactive, punctual, durative, simultaneous, and telicity: unmarked. Aspect combinations free — no bars, no restrictions with voices, tenses, moods, or nonfinite forms.
- Intentional mood: the self-vow — Ai'en'lith, narrativemancy: the speaker stories femself into the deed (1sg); other persons unruléd.
- No debitive mood — the normal imperative serves obligation.
- Potential: the Syá-family (sentence-adverbial possibility); no physical-ability/permission split; no learned-ability form.
- The certainty ladder: Syá (may be) / bare (is) / ios-emphatic (must be) — assembled from attested pieces, provisional.
- Monitory: the Mee-frame (provisional).
- No dedicated narrative mood — the Verbless Eternal register serves the mythic.
- Consecutive ("therefore"): aich sin "also-as" (provisional). Contingent ("it is possible that"): Syá as sentence-adverbial.
- Incorporation: objects and pronouns ride into complexes (the tmesis engine); subjects never incorporate, transitive or intransitive; indirect objects may ride in.

- Absolute vs contingent state in adjectives: yes — tenure-predication.

Comparison & degree morphology

- The comparative: mÿa on the compared term + iy with the standard. Equality: the sin...sy correlative — equality and inequality never share a word — law. Superlatives: mÿel "more-than-any" and niyel "fewer-than-any", with variant definite articles; in superlative-of-a-set, the partitive e either precedes the article or appends to the adjective-turned-being-noun (Holdhr) — both grammatical; comparison of a thing to itself at other times: yes. No other superlative types but poetic ones.
- Degree in large measure: sinyá "muchly". In small measure ("rather tall"): the attenuator — the double negative disembodies into approximation: aoa [adj]'t / 'thte ("semi-rightward-turn-ness": aoa dúixeis film't) — provisional application.
- Adverb comparison: equality — sin...sy reaches adverbs; comparative — the -mÿa suffix generalised from adjectives (contrariety wears -ma, the contradiction suffix; slee'ya: degree-reading or doublet — fork); superlative — the same mÿel/niyel mechanism; no other kinds.
- Adverb degree: "very quickly" rides the degree machinery as litotic boost — Ten í or'mordachië'il—'t craithië fithea "I ate extremely hungrily": the or...il attenuator wraps the degree-word via tmesis, a dash-hung 't negates the whole wrapped proposition, not-insufficiently reading as an intensifier; alternate or'mordachái-by'il—'t "with-not-insufficient-enormity". "Too quickly" = Ro'[adverb]'il on the same wrap-pattern. craithië "hungrily" (craith- the inferred hunger-root) · fith "eat" (fithea "ate") · mordachië "enormously" · mordachái "enormity" — extensions of the established mordach "big".

Numerals (record-level)

- The counting-numeral list and other numeral derivatives: outstanding, parked.
- Attributive cardinals are the same forms (ssai Lundê, cliff Lyrê, éx Nímhogê); no kind-specific numerals.
- Ordinals: the C'...'ed circumfix machinery (C'achér'ed attested; ced "second" lives).
- Quantifier compounds are regular: uain't-aoa "someone" · æouain "none" · Wiunail/Wilhiæ "everyone"; the remaining slots (anyone, everything, nowhere, whoever) await their welds — watched. No quantification by reduplication — doubling belongs to the gerund.

Derivation (record-level)

- Adjective → abstract Noun by -aí: Grëachái "humorousness" · mordachái "enormity" · Státachái "idiocy" · Æermuchái; the -ach stage skips when semantically absurd. The -aí nouns are noun-like throughout — articles, e, by, case-frames like any Noun; no sentence-like syntax.
- No nouns from adverbs. Nouns from clauses: canon — the tmesis fold-road makes one Noun of a relative clause (Ië'mal'rugh'ach'nÿ, an NP by the gift test), and Hthom swallows propositions whole. Other categories (particles, pronouns): unattested — watched.

- Verbs from Nouns by -æn (elf → elfæn), productivity open. Verbs from verbs: the tenure-derivations (gilæn, gænyin). No adjective-to-verb morphology — the ghiæan-frames do the work. None from adverbs; none beyond -æn.
- Adjectives from verbs: the -ea participle (farmea attributive; Chardea's shape). Adjectives from adjectives: the degree circumfixes — Or...il "not X enough" · Ro...il "too X" — and the comparative -mÿa; an -ish and an un-word remain uncoined, watched. None from adverbs or elsewhere.
- Adjective → adverb by -ië (mordachië, craithië); elinië the Noun-road cousin. Adverbs from adverbs: no dedicated suffix — the degree/attenuator syntax does it. Noun-ië and Adj-ië stand alone.
- Complex prepositions form by the weld — wythil, duflín, drúræao, dúiri the four attestations; the possibilities are P+P true compounds (duín < du + In; beside the P+article welds dús, dúil, ythús) and quantifier-welds (wil into yth; the drú-, du- compounds). Whether P-governing-PP sequences also stand, and whether du is the only fusing root: watched. No nominal ("in front of") or verbal ("depending on") formations — the weld-road serves.
- No adjectival complex-preposition formations. Article-fusion completes the set: du + lus → dús, yth + lus → ythús.
- Simple derived prepositions: the loan-road only — none denominal, deverbal, or deadjectival (aoyth is underived); the grubby loans stand as the evidence.

Phonology (record-level)

- Distinctive segments, allophony (nonsyllabics and syllabics), word-edge consonants, consonant clusters, and syllable structure: outstanding — parked.
- Loan-flavoured segments: þ and the trill-letter V — register, not class-restriction.
- Vowels are free at both word-edges and in sequence — the ĩ seam-law is the one written rule.
- Roots are word-shaped; only the affix-stock is bound.
- No systematic unit-restrictions beyond the seam-law and the toll — onsets, codas, cross-syllable combinations all free.
- Vowel harmony: "yes, essentially" — local suffix-harmony (-as; lynœa's œ), no root-spreading system. No consonant harmony — the seam-and-toll is the only consonant law.
- No distinctive length anywhere.
- Stress: no fixed word-accent — stress falls freely and means nothing (the deafness law); no grammatical role, no canonical position. The trills Δ/V can continue alongside speech, sounding through to the sentence's end or the next • — the one exception; humans cannot produce them.
- No tone: no lexical, grammatical, or partial tone; pitch never bears meaning (scér/scén differ by segment, never pitch); no tonal morphophonology, downstep, or updrift. If the ideophones ever gain melody, the no-tone rulings reopen.

- Intonation: no canonical peak; no intonation pattern bears syntactic or semantic function — questionhood, emphasis, and topic all travel segmentally. Emphatic and contrastive intonation exist vocally and mean nothing. Interaction with stress and tone: grammatically nil, except the trills running parallel. No segmental effects from intonation; the trills are segmental-parallel vocables (provisional).
- Stress and tone under morphology: nothing to move, vacuously constant — no accent, no tone. Intonation causes no segmental change.

Ideophones & interjections

- The ideophone class is the trills — no further members; their normal dictionary alternatives are the prefixes af- (Δ) and fel- (V), the trills' segmental spellings.
- Structure-breaking interjections: the trill-vocables Δ (up-energy) and V (down-energy) — V a letter the alphabet otherwise lacks, used as a mark; Δ one vocable in two offices (vocative; the smooch's topic-boundary). Other interjections unattested.

Semantic fields (record-level)

- Kinship — all parameters agender (blood, half-blood, oath, choosing, fostering, affiliation); sídia, Rhié, and te-...-'os the spine.
- By blood: Sídílè "womb-kin, blood-sibling" · Elintimma "lineage (the line of one's Rhié)" · MaíælRhië "grandparent (elder-Rhié)" · Sinithaíl "twin" · e mýel Ældhr Sídia-teos "eldest-sídia" · e mýel Frælr Sídia-teos "youngest-sídia".
- By partial blood: Sídia-leth / Le'sídia'th "half-sídia" (tmetic variant) · Sídia-afTo'emma'lach "full-blood sibling (shared-parent kin)".
- By marriage: Wælainr "spouse (agender, oath-kin)" · Rhié-Emma-mé-aoa "parent-in-law (Rhié-blood-with-not)" · Sídia-wal "sídia-by-oath".
- By adoption: Frœli-tóff "chosen-child" · Rhié-tóff "chosen-Rhié".
